Leigh Anderson, Janet W. Looney, 2002-01-01 While a universal definition of progress has proved elusive measures of progress have been defined and grouped into the broad areas of material wealth social relations technical capacity and moral aesthetic and intellectual sensibilities However not until the Progress Project whose results are gathered here has the impact of progress on public policy in these realms been systematically explored In this volume noted scholars in economics government education technology literature culture and religion among other fields discuss the meaning and measurement of progress in their areas of specialty They assess particular policies that have either promoted or retarded progress and provide recommendations for policy processes or instruments that better reflect the nature of forward movement in the current era Making Progress is an important contribution to both the theoretical and practical literature on public policy it is a resource for scholars and students as well as a guide for policymakers analysts and advocates who help craft those policies in the name of progress World Development Indicators ,2002 The Skeptical Environmentalist Bjørn Lomborg, 2001 The Skeptical Environmentalist challenges widely held beliefs that the environmental situation is getting worse and worse The author himself a former member of Greenpeace is critical of the way in which many environmental organisations make selective and misleading use of the scientific evidence Using the best available statistical information from internationally recognised research institutes Bjørn Lomborg systematically examines a range of major environmental problems that feature prominently in headline news across the world His arguments are presented in non technical accessible language and are carefully backed up by over 2500 footnotes allowing readers to check sources for themselves Concluding that there are more reasons for optimism than pessimism Bjørn Lomborg stresses the need for clear headed prioritisation of resources to tackle real not imagined problems The Skeptical Environmentalist offers readers a non partisan stocktaking exercise that serves as a useful corrective to the more alarmist accounts favoured by campaign groups and the media Cross-Border Exposures and Country Risk Thomas Krayenbuehl, 2001-07-03 The international financial system has come under strain several times in recent years and analysis has shown that most crises originated from the risks built into cross border exposures Assessment and monitoring of cross border exposures and country risk are essential activities for international lending agencies such as government bodies banks multinational corporations and other investors Inadequate risk management could have a destabilising effect on both lender and borrower and could result in a major international financial crisis This completely revised edition of Thomas E Krayenbuehl s classic handbook clearly shows how the various players can quantify and manage the complex factors involved in order to minimise the risk and avoid potentially catastrophic consequences It provides both a rigorous analysis of the current situation and a guide to meeting the challenges of the future Just some of the things you ll discover How to succeed in cross border lending and investment through good assessment monitoring and hedging of country risk How the Tequila and Asian crises came about and the lessons learned The likelihood of future crises and the potential causes The latest problems to beset the international financial system The recent developments in cross border financing Why the problem of contagion occurs between seemingly unrelated markets The enormous need for global capital to bring about sustainable economic development in the developing world and the role of the major players in fulfilling it The numerous factors that constitute and influence a specific country risk The responsibilities of all the parties involved from the IMF and the World Bank to the industrialised and developing nations the regulators and the rating agencies How this study helps you This lucid and authoritative handbook will help you to Understand the problems facing the international financial system Identify and assess new investment opportunities Optimise risk composition of cross border lending or investment Make sound decisions minimise risk and achieve better outcomes The definitive study of this important topic its purpose practice and implications

Failed Transition, Bleak Future? Hooman Peimani, 2002-04-30 Peimani challenges the practical indifference of many Western and non Western countries with interests in Central Asia and the Caucasus to their plight Independence in 1991 suddenly worsened all the economic and social problems of the countries of the Caucasus Azerbaijan Armenia and Georgia and Central Asia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their failure to address their numerous economic problems and to develop their economies has created a suitable ground for the rise of social and political popular dissent including ethnic conflicts in all these multi ethnic countries Concerned about the stability of their political systems their ruling elites have all opted for authoritarianism The prevailing intolerance of dissent and the suppression of opposition political parties have paved the way for the emergence of anti government extremist ideologies and political groups The domestic situation has become ripe for the rise of violent political activities and ethnic conflicts with a great possibility for their escalation to civil wars The ethnic structure of both the Caucasus and Central Asia makes their development into inter state wars a strong possibility The unsettled ethnic and territorial conflicts within and between countries which turned into wars in the early 1990s could easily re emerge There is a potential for the further escalation of military conflicts in those regions because of the intentional or unintentional intervention of Iran China Turkey Russia and the United States which have long term interests in the two regions Given the geographical characteristics of the Caucasus and Central Asia as a link between Asia and Europe war and instability in those regions could destabilize the two continents hosting six declared nuclear powers Of particular interest to scholars and other researchers involved with Eurasian Central Asian and Caucasian countries
