content management and maybe even broader about computer systems in general First ongoing business globalization creates natural distribution of information at a corporate level as well as decentralization of control over business resources and business processes Changing alliances with partners require flexible architectures for content management that can adapt to changing constellations roles and access rights Second the need for outsourcing and resource efficiency has brought about concepts of virtualization recently culminating in the cloud computing buzzword Virtualization of content management services requires extremely scalable and flexible underlying information and communication architectures These kinds of solutions are theoretically and practically impossible to implement based on centralized client server architectures Third we are currently experiencing a dramatic shift in the roles of consumers in the Internet The times have gone when quality content was only delivered by publishers and news agencies Wikis and other Web 2.0 tools empower consumers to produce and publish their personal content
