Remote Work, Real Europe: Where Digital Nomads Find Peace and Productivity Charlotte Hayes, 2026-01-03 Move beyond Lisbon s packed coworking spaces and Barcelona s rising rents This guide reveals European destinations where digital nomads can actually afford to stay work efficiently and experience genuine local culture without competing with thousands of other remote workers for the same apartments and cafés. Discover towns and small cities with fiber optic internet, comfortable year-round climates, thriving local communities, and monthly living costs that don't deviate from reality. Each location includes detailed breakdowns of coworking options, reliable cafés with strong connectivity, visa requirements, average apartment prices, and the social infrastructure that prevents remote work isolation. From Balkan mountain towns to Spanish interior cities, Portuguese northern villages to Eastern European cultural capitals, you'll find places where being a digital nomad enhances rather than disrupts local life. Learn which destinations welcome long-term remote workers where English proficiency makes daily life smooth and how to integrate into communities that value genuine connections over transient networking. This isn't about chasing the next trendy hotspot; it's about finding sustainable places to work remotely while living meaningfully.

The COVID-19 Pandemic and the Future of Working Spaces Ilaria Mariotti, Mina Di Marino, Pavel Bednář, 2022-08-29. This edited volume presents a compendium of emerging and innovative studies on the proliferation of new working spaces (NeWSps) both formal and informal such as coworking spaces, maker spaces, fab labs, public libraries, and coffee shops, and their role during and following the COVID-19 pandemic in urban and regional development and planning. This book presents an original interdisciplinary approach to NeWSps through three features: i) situating the debate in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic which has transformed NeWSp business models and the everyday work life of their owners and users; ii) repositioning and rethinking the debate on NeWSps in the context of socioeconomics and planning and comparing conditions between before and during the COVID-19 pandemic; and iii) providing new directions for urban and regional development and resilience to the COVID-19 pandemic considering new ways of working and living. The 17 chapters are co-authored by both leading international scholars who have studied the proliferation of NeWSps in the last decade and young talented researchers, resulting in a total of 55 co-authors from different disciplines, 48 of whom are currently involved in the COST Action CA18214 'The Geography of New Working Spaces and Impact on the Periphery' (2019-2023). www.newworkingspaces.eu. Selected comparative studies among several European countries (Western and Eastern Europe) and from the US and Lebanon are presented. The book contributes to the understanding of multi-disciplinary theoretical and practical implications of NeWSps for our society, economy, and urban/regional planning in conditions following the COVID-19 pandemic. The Effect of Workplace Design to Employee Engagement, Collaborative Capability, and Perceived Work Performance in Coworking Spaces Hannah Angelica Go, Lalaine B. Boco, Joseph Christian A., 2018-03-13. Bachelor Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Leadership and Human Resources Miscellaneous. University of Santo Tomas College of Commerce and Business Administration course Human Resource Development Management. Language: English. Abstract: The Coworking space phenomenon is rapidly growing across the countries of North America, Europe, and Asia. Owing to its functional work environment, it offers coworkers a collaborative atmosphere that makes them more involved at work. The research study aims to describe the causal relationship of workplace design to perceived work performance and to employee engagement and collaborative capability as mediating variables through the use of Structural Equation Modeling (SEM). A total of 350 coworkers aged 18-60 years old from 27 different coworking spaces in Metro Manila, Philippines, participated in the study. The findings of this research revealed that workplace design has no direct effect on perceived work performance; hence, perceived work performance improves when coworkers are more engaged and have better collaborative capability. Nonetheless, the rest of the hypothesized premises were affirmed in the result of this study. This paper can help HR managers and the business centers to create a more flexible and constructive workplace setting for their employees. Further, the results can be used as a basis for the fundamental shift of the traditional workspace into a new creative workplace.

I'm Outta Here Todd Sundsted, Drew Jones, Tony Bacigalupo, 2009-10-27. I'm Outta Here: How coworking is making the office obsolete is a book about the people and places that make up a workplace revolution. From a single space in San Francisco at the beginning of 2006, coworking has grown to over 70 spaces worldwide at the end of 2008, with more appearing almost daily. Read the book and you'll see why so many talented workers have turned their backs to the office and said "I'm outta here."
