To Remember the Faces of the Dead Thomas Maschio, 1994 As he challenges classical semiological accounts of cultural representation in this ethnography of Melanesian religious phenomenology Thomas Maschio shows that ritual and poetic performance are about the enactment expression and invention of the self Maschio demonstrates how such emotions as nostalgia anger sadness and grief are creatively transformed during the course of religious performance and expression into a form of cultural memory one that juxtaposes a pattern of cultural meaning with the emotional feeling of plenitude the Melanesian Rauto call makai Evoked during initiation mourning and agricultural rites and figuring prominently in Rauto discourse about the self makai joins personal memory to patterned sets of images and meanings that Westerners would call culture

Death in the

Early Twenty-first Century Sébastien Penmellen Boret, Susan Orpett Long, Sergei Kan, 2017-07-18 Focusing on tradition technology and authority this volume challenges classical understandings that mortuary rites are inherently conservative The contributors examine innovative and enduring ideas and practices of death which reflect and constitute changing patterns of social relationships memorialisation and the afterlife This cross cultural study examines the lived experiences of men and women from societies across the globe with diverse religious heritages and secular value systems The book demonstrates that mortuary practices are not fixed forms but rather dynamic processes negotiated by the dying the bereaved funeral experts and public institutions In addition to offering a new theoretical perspective on the anthropology of death this work provides a rich resource for readers interested in human responses to mortality the one certainty of human existence
