Deception Ziyad Marar,2014-12-05 Most of us think we are about 15 per cent cleverer nicer more attractive and better drivers than others think we are It seems deception begins at home After all the most convincing liars convince themselves first Sellers and buyers parents and children friends and lovers must conceal from each other the unutterable truth that they don't believe or want the same things In this book Ziyad Marar throws a revealing light on the many ways deception is woven into the texture of human life our wiring leaves us easily suckered by persuasive illusions while our contradictory desires for sex and honesty money and kindness for cake and losing weight force us to cook up self-serving stories We manage flattering impressions with effortless skill while pretending our sins and self-indulgences are beyond our control Drawing on insights from philosophy psychology and literature Marar explores the implications for living well in the shadow of Kant's humbling thought that out of the crooked timber of humanity no straight thing was ever made

Frontiers Isaac Asimov,1989 Expanded versions of columns that appeared originally in the Los Angeles Times
