Try Drying It Case Studies:

Try Drying It! Barrie Axtell, B. L. Axtell, Alex Bush, 1991 The preservation of food by drying out is one of the oldest methods known This book provides case studies of technologies which have been developed to improve upon this method they evaluate the technology and illustrate how tray driers are effective and adaptable to local needs Fish Processing George M. Hall, 2011-06-13 This book seeks to address the challenges facing the international seafood industry via a two pronged approach by offering the latest information on established technologies and introducing new ideas and technologies An introductory chapter sets the tone for the book by presenting the background against which fish processing will exist in the near future Chapter two looks at the environmental and sustainability issues relating to conventional fish processing including processing efficiency and better use of the outputs currently considered wastes The impact of mechanisation and computerisation on environmental sustainability is also addressed Subsequent chapters examine the latest developments in established fish processing technologies such as canning curing freezing and chilling with an emphasis on the environmental aspects of packaging and the process itself In addition quality and processing parameters for specific species including new species are described The second part of the book gives authors the opportunity to introduce the potential technologies and applications of the future to a wider audience These include fermented products and their acceptance by a wider audience the utilisation of fish processing by products as aquaculture feeds and the use of by products for bioactive compounds in biomedical nutraceutical cosmetic and other applications Food Processing Technology P.J. Fellows, 2000-07-11 The first edition of Food Processing Technology was quickly adopted as the standard text by many food science and technology courses While keeping with the practice of covering the wide range of food processing techniques this new edition has been substantially expanded to take account of the advances in technology that have taken place since the publication of the first edition The Second Edition includes new chapters on computer control of processing novel minimal technologies and Ohmic heating and an extended chapter on modified atmosphere packaging It is a comprehensive yet basic text that offers an overview of most unit operations while at the same time providing details of the processing equipment operating conditions and the effects of processing on the biochemistry of foods The book is divided into five parts in which unit operations are grouped according to the nature of the heat transfer that takes place Each chapter describes the formulae required for calculation of processing parameters sample problems and the effects on sensory characteristics and nutritional properties of selected foods By combining food processing theory and calculations with descriptions of commercial practice and results of scientific studies Food Processing Technology Principles and Practice Second Edition helps readers make attractive saleable products and extend the shelf life of foods Case Studies of Targeted Poverty Reduction and Alleviation in 100 Villages Editorial Team of Case Studies of Targeted Poverty Reduction and Alleviation in 100 Villages, 2026-01-01 This book analyzes China's poverty reduction efforts through vivid case studies Based on village research 18 representative villages were selected for this book From the perspective of a village observer the case authors tell typical examples on the road to poverty alleviation in villages with qualitative analysis and vivid examples The 18 cases in this book focus on the people and events in the villages reflecting the poverty alleviation situation and socio economic development posture of the poor villages at the forefront of the battle against poverty
