Universal Justice A Dialectical Approach:

Universal Justice Albert A. Anderson, 2021-11-29 The modern era was dominated by conflicts between claims to certainty about justice and denials that certainty is warranted The purpose of this book is to develop a postmodern alternative to both philosophies one which is universal without being absolutist The approach is dialectical in Plato's sense of that term Dialectic is both necessary and sufficient for the theoretical and the practical aspects of living The primary symbol in this book is the Athenian Socrates who spent his days in the Agora and his evenings in the houses of his friends the active professionals of the world's first democracy His questions were unabashedly philosophical concerned with the most urgent matters What is worth living for What is worth dying for Who is best suited to rule in the state How should young people be educated The nature of justice is closely connected with other questions of value so the discussion freely moves from that central focus to related matters with the primary goal of developing a dialectical philosophy that is both applicable to life and open to all

Universal Justice is concerned with how to think about justice rather than what to think about justice

Dialogue and Universalism, 1998 Toward synergy of civilizations

Experiencing Tess of the D'Urbervilles Arthur Efron, 2005 This book interprets Thomas Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles with the openness toward experience recommended by John Dewey's Art as Experience The characters of Tess are considered as real people with sexual bodies and complex minds Efron identifies the experience blockers that the critical tradition has stumbled upon and defends Hardy's involvement in telling his story Efron offers a new way of evaluating literature inspired by Dewey's pragmatist aesthetics

Neoplatonic Aesthetics Liana Cheney, John Shannon Hendrix, 2004 Neoplatonic Aesthetics Music Literature and the Visual Arts explores the idea of a Neoplatonic aesthetic a philosophy of the arts based on the writings of Plato and the Neoplatonists principally Plotinus Proclus Pseudo Dionysius Nicolas Cusanus and Marsilio Ficino and more contemporary philosophers Stephen MacKenna Iris Murdoch Denman Ross Jacques Derrida and Hans Georg Gadamer This book examines the artistic production of figures such as Gioseffe Zarlino Fra Angelico Leon Battista Alberti Sandro Botticelli Michelangelo and Giorgio Vasari and it formulates theoretical approaches to contemporary production based in the Neoplatonic philosophies

Medicine, Health, and Justice Alastair V. Campbell, 1978 My aim has been to approach the debate about health service priorities from the perspective of political philosophy but to keep the discussion firmly anchored in contemporary problems of health care provision The chapters are designed to provide the groundwork for anyone interested in the ethical problems in modern health care I have used examples of health care delivery in Britain the USA the USSR and the People's Republic of China to illustrate different aspects of the problem of priorities The issues can be summarised under three broad headings Distribution effectiveness and authority to make decisions
