Urban Life In Contemporary China:

Urban Life in Contemporary China Martin King Whyte, William L. Parish, 1985-11-15 Through interviews with city residents Martin King Whyte and William L Parish provide a unique survey of urban life in the last decade of Mao Zedong's rule. They conclude that changes in society produced under communism were truly revolutionary and that in the decade under scrutiny the Chinese avoided ostensibly universal evils of urbanism with considerable success. At the same time however they find that this successful effort spawned new and equally serious urban problems: bureaucratic rigidity, low production and more. Chinese Urban Life Under Reform Wenfang Tang, William L. Parish, 2000-01-28 This book examines how urban China is experiencing the shift from a planned to a market economy. Urban Spaces in Contemporary China Deborah S. Davis, Richard Kraus, Barry Naughton, Elizabeth J. Perry, 1995-08-25 The post-Mao urban reforms of the past decade have physically and psychologically transformed China's cities. Urban Spaces in Contemporary China explores how the character of city life changed after political-economic restructuring intensified in 1984 and how this change affected the creation of new physical, economic, and cultural space in urban China. Drawing on a wide range of backgrounds including economics, art, history, law, and sociology, the authors bring personal insights to dimensions of urban Chinese life that are often misunderstood: China's large floating populations, avant-garde art, labor movements, and leisure. A Sociology of Modern China Jean-Louis Rocca, 2015-01-05 Jean-Louis Rocca's admirably concise A Sociology of Modern China wears its scholarship lightly and paints an intimate and complex portrait of Chinese society all the while avoiding clichés and simplifications. He delves into China's history and examines the country's many different social strata so as to better understand the enormous challenges and opportunities with which its people are confronted. After discussing the long march toward reform and the crises along the way among them, the 1989 protests which culminated in the events in Tiananmen Square and elsewhere, Rocca dedicates the second half of the book to the major questions facing the country or, at the very least, its political elites today: new forms of social stratification, the interaction between the market and the state, growing individualism, and the pressures exerted by social conflict and political change. In eschewing culturalist visions, Rocca thoroughly and successfully deconstructs received wisdom about Chinese society to reveal a thriving nation and its people. Leisure and Power in Urban China Unn Målfrid Rolandsen, 2011-03-31 Leisure and Power in Urban China is the first comprehensive study of leisure activities in a medium-size Chinese city. Hitherto studies of Chinese leisure have focused on holidays, festivals, and tourism. This, however, is a study of the kinds of leisure that take place on regular workdays in a local environment of Quanzhou city. In doing so, Leisure and Power introduces leisure studies to China studies and data from China to the field of Leisure studies. Based on interviews with people from all walks of life and case studies from bookshops, internet bars, Karaoke parlours, streets, and public squares, Rolandsen brings to attention the importance of fun and socializing in the lives of Chinese urbanites. Central to the study is the contrast between popular practices and official discourse. Rolandsen provides in depth analyses of the moralist PRC leisure ethic so characteristic of official Chinese publications and news media Using examples from everyday life as a contrast this study demonstrates that official propaganda has but little influence on how Chinese individuals lead their lives Taking leisure as a point of departure this book describes the new kinds of interaction between the local party state and the population it seeks to govern This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese Studies Leisure Studies Urban Studies and Asian Studies in general Socially Engaged Art in Contemporary China Meiqin Wang,2019-03-04 This book provides an in depth and thematic analysis of socially engaged art in Mainland China exploring its critical responses to and creative interventions in China s top down pro urban and profit oriented socioeconomic transformations It focuses on the socially conscious practices of eight art professionals who assume the role of artist critic curator educator cultural entrepreneur and social activist among others as they strive to expose the injustice and inequality many Chinese people have suffered raise public awareness of pressing social and environmental problems and invent new ways and infrastructures to support various underprivileged social groups Visual Culture in Contemporary China II Zhou Xian,2025-03-31 The second in a two volume series that explores the interplay between social transformation and visual culture in contemporary China this book examines the profound changes in the cityscapes visual regimes and visual technologies that shape the aestheticization of everyday life Drawing on an approach of Marxist historical materialism and interdisciplinary resources from sociology communication and art this volume investigates three key aspects of visual culture in modern China the transformation of urban landscapes and its impact on cultural autonomy and local identity the development of visual regimes focusing on public museums as sites for the construction of public visibility and the role of visual technologies in reshaping everyday life from the influence of television on traditional customs to the rise of internet subcultures This title will provide valuable insights for scholars and students of Chinese cultural and urban studies as well as readers interested in the ongoing visual transformation of contemporary Chinese society Visual Arts, Representations and Interventions in Contemporary China Minna Valjakka,Meiqin Wang,2025-10-01 This edited volume provides a multifaceted investigation of the dynamic interrelations between visual arts and urbanization in contemporary Mainland China with a focus on unseen representations and urban interventions brought about by the transformations of the urban space and the various problems associated with it Through a wide range of illuminating case studies the authors demonstrate how innovative artistic and creative practices initiated by various stakeholders not only raise critical awareness on socio political issues of Chinese urbanization but also actively reshape the urban living spaces The formation of new collaborations agencies aesthetics and cultural production sites facilitate diverse forms of cultural activism as they challenge the dominant ways of interpreting social changes and encourage civic participation in the production of alternative meanings in and of the city Their significance lies in their potential to question current values and power structures as well as to foster new subjectivities for disparate individuals and social groups Studies On Contemporary China Ruiquan Gao,Guanjun

Wu,2018-08-13 Studies on Contemporary China collects important research findings of China's contemporary political economic and social studies conducted by the academics at East China Normal University ECNU in recent years. This book covers topics including rural urban integration, reflection on the future of Shanghai Cooperation Organization, analysis of the effects of risk measures on bank efficiency, new rural social endowment insurance, neotype urbanization among others. This book is the third volume in the WSPC ECNU Series on China. The WSPC ECNU Series showcases the significant contributions to scholarship in social sciences and humanities studies about China. The Series is jointly launched by World Scientific Publishing, the most reputable English academic publisher in Asia, and ECNU, a top University in China with a long history of exchanges with the international academic community. The Development of Urban Labor Markets in Contemporary China Lora Lynne Sabin,1995 Urban Anthropology and Studies of Cultural Systems and World Economic Development ,2004 The Habitable City in China Toby Lincoln,Xu Tao,2016-11-21 This book offers a new perspective on Chinese urban history by exploring cities as habitable spaces. China, the world's most populous nation, is now its newest urban society and the pace of this unprecedented historical transformation has increased in recent decades. The contributors to this book conceptualise cities as first providing the necessities of life and then becoming places in which the quality of life can be improved. They focus on how cities have been made secure during times of instability, how their inhabitants have consumed everything from the simplest of foods to the most expensive luxuries, and how they have been planned as ideal spaces. Drawing examples from across the country, this book offers comparisons between different cities, highlights continuities across time and space, and in doing so may provide solutions to some of the problems that continue to affect Chinese cities today. Contemporary China ,1977 Chinese Environment & Development ,1996 The Emerging Teng System King-yuh Chang,1982 Asian Thought & Society ,1999 THE SEARECH FOR MODERN CHINA JONATHAN D.
