many threats to global biodiversity and of the policy responses required to combat them This excellent text includes the work of some 44 authors and offers a solid description of the current understanding of threats to biodiversity with a range of illustrative examples a valuable point of reference for ecologists environmental scientists and students as well as policymakers and all other environmental professionals

Sustainability Indicators Tomás Hák, Bedrich Moldan, Arthur Lyon Dahl, 2012-09-26 While the concept of sustainability has been widely embraced it has been only vaguely defined and is exceedingly difficult to measure Sustainability indicators are critical to making the broad concept of sustainability operational by providing specific measures by which decision makers and the public can judge progress Sustainability Indicators defines the present state of the art in indicator development It presents a comprehensive assessment of the science behind various indicators while placing special emphasis on their use as communications tools The contributors draw on their experience as academics and practitioners to describe the conceptual challenges to measuring something as complex as sustainability at local regional national and global scales The book also reviews existing indicators to assess how they could be better employed considering which indicators are overused and which have been underutilized Sustainability Indicators will help planners and policy makers find indicators that are ready for application and relevant to their needs and will help researchers identify the unresolved issues where progress is most urgently needed All readers will find advice as to the most effective ways to use indicators to support decision making

Urban Planning and Management Kenneth George Willis, R. Kerry Turner, Ian Bateman, 2001 Urban Planning and Management presents a collection of key articles on different aspects of sustainability in urban planning and management whilst simultaneously illustrating the conflicting arguments about whether and how sustainability should be achieved Part I covers the factors determining the life and death of cities and what is required to achieve sustainable development In Part II issues of whether cities should be compact or dispersed and concepts of sustainable development in third world cities and societies are explored Parts III and IV examine design as an integral part of producing a sustainable urban policy and energy use Part V deals with Local Agenda 21 issues and Part VI looks at town planning Part VII discusses transport as both a product and determinant of sustainable urban planning and management Parts VIII IX and X examine the sustainable provision of other services including waste collection recycling schemes and water In Part XI sustainability is shown as occurring within and constrained by legal property rights and management practices Developing Indicators of Urban Sustainability Virginia Maclaren, Intergovernmental Committee on Urban and Regional Research (Canada), Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Canada. State of the Environment Directorate, 1996 Having identified sustainability as an important goal municipalities and other levels of government are turning to the issue of how to measure a community's progress towards achieving this goal This report seeks to establish a methodology for developing sustainability indicators It begins with a discussion of alternative definitions of urban sustainability and then describes some of the general characteristics of indicators and indices Following a brief investigation of the meaning of sustainability indicators several potential indicator frameworks are examined including those which could be adapted from the work on state of the environment reporting quality of life reporting and healthy city reporting Next more detailed attention is given to appropriate criteria for identifying sustainability indicators and to the steps to be followed in applying those criteria A number of examples of potential indicators are then described and evaluated against the criteria Finally detailed case studies of urban sustainability reporting are presented as well as a brief description of sustainability reporting projects in British Columbia Proceedings of the IEEE ... International Workshop on Systems Management, 1993 Proceedings of the British Psychological Society British Psychological Society, 2005 AMA Winter Educators' Conference, 1991 Renewable Resource Inventories for Monitoring Changes and Trends John F. Bell, Toby Atterbury, 1983 This conference was created to provide a foundation for developing and implementing inventories to monitor changes and trends It included recommendations formulated at the XVII I U F R O World Congress in Kyoto Japan in 1981 Because the wildland resources timber forage wildlife etc are being depleted most rapidly and are the most difficult to inventory they have received the most attention Page 2 Proceedings of the IEEE First International Workshop on Systems Management, 1994 Sustainability Indicators Bedrich Moldan, Suzanne Billharz, Robyn Matravers, 1997 This volume is a synthesis of current scientific advice on the future course of work in the international context on indicators of sustainable development It provides input from the scientific and academic community regarding priority areas and direction for future work It synthesizes current on the ground experience for the decision maker The volume has special significance in the context of the ongoing CSD multi thematic programme which includes 1997 State of the Parks Parks Canada, Canada. Dept. of the Environment. Canadian Parks Service, Canada. Canadian Heritage, 1998 This report documents progress in achieving Parks Canada goals of protecting and preserving national parks and historic sites and fostering public understanding appreciation and enjoyment of them The opening chapter reviews examples of local heritage and resource conservation projects This is followed by chapters evaluating the state of national parks and historic sites examining progress made toward completing enhancing the park site systems so that they adequately represent Canada's natural regions and human history. They outline advances in implementing a system for assessing ecological integrity and in measuring the commemorative integrity of historic sites. Also included is a synopsis of the state of cultural resources, heritage presentation, and threats to integrity of the historic sites. The next chapter reviews the provision of park site services and the involvement of various stakeholders in the park site system. The final chapter documents the investment of human and financial resources in parks and historic sites. Relevant statistics are provided throughout.
