Misunderstood Stories Robert Karl Gnuse, 2014-03-20 Narratives in Genesis 1-11 have been misunderstood in many ways but they especially have been used to oppress women and African Americans and to present a God of wrath and judgment This commentary seeks to explain the real message behind those narratives which is one that speaks of human dignity and equality that affirms monotheism that criticizes kings and tyrants that declares our oneness with the animal realm and nature and that proclaims a powerful message of divine grace with a deity personally involved in the human world Humor may also be found in some of these stories These biblical passages can be best explicated by close reading as well as by knowledge of comparable stories from the ancient Near East and from the classical world and finally by knowledge of the concomitant social and political values connected with those other myths and narratives Mallory of the Angels 2 Carlos T. Inequality in Northern Ireland David John Smith, Gerald Chambers, 1991 A common view among members of the ruling group in Belfast and London is that after the reforms of the 1970s the public services and the main social and economic institutions in Northern Ireland are as fair as they can be in a divided society and that any remaining inequality between Protestants and Catholics is a reflection of historic discrimination which has now been put right In this benchmark study David Smith and Gerald Chambers assemble a wide range of statistical material that emphatically contradicts this view of Northern Ireland's fair and equitable society Examining the extent of inequality between Protestants and Catholics in all areas of daily life the authors show how far inequalities can be explained by factors other than discrimination They also show how people perceive inequality and discrimination and how important they think these issues are This penetrating study will be of interest to teachers and students of politics sociology law social policy as well as journalists and political commentators
