The Classical Line, 1967     The Classical Line, 1967     Yale French Studies, 1982     The theatre of Jean Mairret
Burf Kay, 2019-01-29 No detailed description available for The theatre of Jean Mairret     Reading Lucretius in the Renaissance Ada Palmer, 2014-10-13 Ada Palmer explores how Renaissance poets and philologists not scientists rescued Lucretius and his atomism theory This heterodoxy circulated in the premodern world not on the conspicuous stage of heresy trials and public debates but in the classrooms libraries studies and bookshops where quiet scholars met transformative ideas

Festschrift Royston Oscar Jones, 1973     The Yale Literary Magazine, 1967     Laugh Lines Julia Langbein, 2022-02-24 Laugh Lines Caricaturing Painting in Nineteenth Century France is the first major study of Salon caricature a kind of graphic art criticism in which press artists drew comic versions of contemporary painting and sculpture for publication in widely consumed journals and albums Salon caricature began with a few tentative lithographs in the 1840s and within a few decades no Parisian exhibition could open without appearing in warped incisive and hilarious miniature in the pages of the illustrated press This broad survey of Salon caricature examines little known graphic artists and unpublished amateurs alongside major figures like douard Manet puts anonymous jokesters in dialogue with the essays of Baudelaire and holds up the material qualities of a 10 centime album to the most ambitious painting of the 19th century This archival study unearths colorful caricatures that have not been reproduced until now drawing back the curtain on a robust culture of comedy around fine art and its reception in 19th century France

The Thought and Art of Joseph Joubert, 1754-1824 David P. Kinloch, 1992 This book rescues Joubert from the ranks of minor French moralistes and by tracing the development of his thought from his time as secretary to Diderot through to the period of his association with Chateaubriand demonstrates that he was a writer on aesthetics of considerable sensitivity Examination of his manuscripts and of his annotation to books in his library shows that Joubert s primary concern during the period that witnessed the gradual but profound change from the intellectual values of the Enlightenment to those of the Romantic period was to establish the status and nature of art and poetry Reading widely among philosophers and poets from Plato and Homer to Kant and Andre Chenier Joubert consigned his thoughts and perceptions to a series of Carnets which form the basis of this study and bear witness to an unusually eclectic and enquiring mind Joubert s significance is not confined to the Enlightenment and Romantic periods He is unique among writers of his day in the way that his own interrogation of the very act of writing anticipates the aesthetic of later highly influential writers such as Stephane Mallarme

Twentieth Century French Fiction George Stambolian, 1975 A collection of essays and articles on French literature in honor of Germaine Br e a French American literary scholar who wrote extensively on Marcel Proust Andre Gide Albert Camus and Jean Paul Sartre

The Movement of Thought Herbert De Ley, 1985     Optical Impersonality Christina Walter, 2014-07-08 Examines modernist writers efforts to map the social implications of an evolving science of vision and visual culture Western accounts of human vision before the nineteenth century tended to separate the bodily eye from the rational mind This model gave way in the mid nineteenth century to one in which the thinking subject perceiving body perceptual object and material world could not be so easily separated Christina Walter explores how this new physiology of vision provoked writers to reconceive the relations among image text sight and subjectivity Walter focuses in particular on the ways in which modernist writers such as H D Mina Loy D H Lawrence and T S Eliot adapted modern optics and visual culture to develop an alternative to the self or person as a model of the human subject Critics have long seen modernists as being concerned with an impersonal form of writing that rejects the earlier Romantic notion that literature was a direct expression of its author s personality Walter argues that scholars have misunderstood aesthetic impersonality as an evacuation of the person when it is instead an interrogation of what exactly goes into a personality She shows that modernist impersonality embraced the embodied and incoherent notion of the human subject that resulted from contemporary physiological science and traces the legacy of that impersonality in current affect theory Optical Impersonality will appeal to scholars and advanced students of modernist literature and visual culture and to those interested in the intersections of art literature science and technology
