The End of Dissatisfaction? Todd McGowan,2012-02-01 Winner of the 2004 Gary Olson Award for best book in cultural theory presented by JAC Exploring the emergence of a societal imperative to enjoy ourselves Todd McGowan builds on the work of such theorists as Jacques Lacan Slavoj Žižek Joan Copjec and Theresa Brennan to argue that we are in the midst of a large scale transformation a shift from a society oriented around prohibition i.e. the notion that one cannot just do as one pleases to one oriented around enjoyment McGowan identifies many of the social ills of American culture today as symptoms of this transformation the sense of disconnection the increase in aggression and violence widespread cynicism political apathy incivility and loss of meaning Discussing these various symptoms he examines various texts from film literature popular culture and everyday life including Toni Morrison s Paradise Tony Kushner s Angels in America and such films as Dead Poets Society and Trigger Effect Paradoxically The End of Dissatisfaction shows how the American cultural obsession with enjoying ourselves actually makes it more difficult to do so

E.L. Doctorow's Skeptical Commitment Michelle M. Tokarczyk,2000 This book gives a political reading of E L Doctorow s fiction For Doctorow there was a tension between the ideals of his socially aware family and those of the new critics under whom he studied as an undergraduate This tension making him skeptical about the possibilities of political involvement has been beneficial because it has enabled Doctorow to avoid the excesses of both polemical writing and formalism Through a stance Tokarczyk terms skeptical commitment he has written political fiction of high literary quality In part he has done so by adapting genres such as the western and the romance Furthermore Doctorow has used experimental techniques to express political and historical themes thereby writing a kind of postmodern fiction that still maintains the possibility of establishing some truths while acknowledging indeterminacy

African American Servitude and Historical Imaginings M. Jordan, 2004-08-20 In African American Servitude and Historical Imaginings Margaret Jordan initiates a new way of looking at the African American presence in American literature Twentieth century retrospective fiction is the site for this compelling investigation about how African American servants and slaves have enormous utility as cultural artifacts objects to be acted upon agents in place or agents provocateurs Jordan argues that those who even those seemingly innocuous infrequently visible or silent servants are vehicles through which history culture and social values and practices are cultivated and perpetuated challenged and destabilized Jordan demonstrates how African American servants and servitude are strategically deployed and engaged in ways which encourage a rethinking of the past She examines the ideological underpinnings of retrospective fiction by writers who are clearly social theorists and philosophers Jordan contends that they do not read or misread history they imagine history as meditations on social realities and reconstruct the past as a way to confront the present
