

Stage Voices

A theater director, seen from behind, wearing a dark hat and a dark jacket, sits in a director's chair. In the background, a stage performance is in progress. A man in a dark suit and hat is dancing with a woman in a purple dress. To the right, another man in a dark vest is dancing with a woman in a green dress. Stage Voices:

Echo's Voice Mary Noonan, 2017-07-05 Helene Cixous 1937 distinguished not least as a playwright herself told Le Monde in 1977 that she no longer went to the theatre it presented women only as reflections of men used for their visual effect The theatre she wanted would stress the auditory giving voice to ways of being that had previously been silenced She was by no means alone in this Cixous's plays along with those of Nathalie Sarraute 1900 99 Marguerite Duras 1914 96 and Noelle Renaude 1949 among others have proved potent in drawing participants into a dynamic space of the voice If as psychoanalysis suggests voice represents a transitional condition between body and language such plays may draw their audiences in to understandings previously never spoken In this ground breaking study Noonan explores the rich possibilities of this new audio vocal form of theatre and what it can reveal of the auditory self Voice Rehabilitation Celia F.
