Telling Lives:

Telling Lives Ronald P. Loftus, 2004-06-30 In this fascinating collection of translations Telling Lives looks at the self writing of five Japanese women who came of age during the decades leading up to World War II Following an introduction that situates women's self writing against the backdrop of Japan during the 1920s and 1930s Loftus takes up the autobiographies of Oku Mumeo a leader of the prewar women's movement and Takai Toshio a textile worker who later became a well known labor activist Next is the moving story of Nishi Kyoko whose Reminiscences tells of her life as a young woman who escapes the oppression of her family and establishes her financial independence Nishi's narrative precedes a detailed look at the autobiography of Sata Ineko Sata's Between the Lines of My Personal Chronology recounts her years as a member of a proletarian arts circle and her struggle to become a writer The collection ends with the Marxist Fukunaga Misao's frank and explosive text Memoirs of a Female Communist which is examined as a manifesto condemning the male chauvinism of the prewar Japanese Communist Party

Telling Lives Marianne Horsdal, 2011-07-15 Both interest in and understanding of narrative analysis had developed rapidly in recent years and is now a mainstream element of research across many disciplines In the groundbreaking Telling Lives Exploring dimensions of narratives the author illustrates as many facets as possible of the stories people tell about their lives She demonstrates

Telling Lives, Telling History Susan Rodgers, 1995-04-19 These two memoirs provide windows into the Sumatran past in particular and the early 20th century history of south east Asia in general In reconstructing their own passage into adulthood the writers tell the story of their country's turbulent journey to independence

Telling Lives Alistair Horne, 2000 Digital Storytelling, Mediatized Stories Knut Lundby, 2008 Recent years have seen amateur personal stories focusing on me flourish on social networking sites and in digital storytelling workshops The resulting digital stories could be called mediatized stories This book deals with these self representational stories aiming to understand the transformations in the age old practice of storytelling that have become possible with the new digital media Its approach is interdisciplinary exploring how the mediation or mediatization processes of digital storytelling can be grasped and offering a sociological perspective of media studies and a socio cultural take of the educational sciences Aesthetic and literary perspectives on narration as well as questioning from an informatics perspective are also included
