Windward Heights:

Windward Heights Maryse Conde, 2003-07-01 Winner of the 2018 New Academy Prize in Literature Prizewinning writer Maryse Condé reimagines Emily Brontë's passionate novel as a tale of obsessive love between the African Razy and Cathy the half-Creole daughter of the man who takes Razy in and raises him but whose treatment goads him into rebellious flight Retaining the emotional power of the original Condé shows Caribbean society in the wake of emancipation Windward Heights Maryse Condé, 1998 A transposition of Wuthering Heights to a Caribbean context Heathcliff is reincarnated in the character Rayze and late 19th century Cuba and Guadeloupe a society in transition in the wake of emancipation form the backdrop to the murderous passion which binds him to Cathy Caribbean Perspectives on Modernity Maria Cristina Fumagalli, 2009-11-02 Taking up the challenge of redefining modernity from a Caribbean perspective instead of assuming that the North Atlantic view of modernity is universal Maria Cristina Fumagalli shows how the Caribbean's contributions to the modern world not only provide a more accurate account of the past but also have the potential to change the way in which we imagine the future Fumagalli uses the myth of Medusa's gaze turning people into stone to describe the way North Atlantic modernity freezes its others into a state of perpetual backwardness that produces an ethnocentric narrative based on homogenization vilification and disempowerment that actively ignores what fails to conform to the story it wants to tell about itself In analyzing narratives of modernity that originate in the Caribbean the author explores the region's refusal to succumb to Medusa's spell and highlights its strategies to outstare the Gorgon Reflecting a diversity of texts genres and media the chapters focus on sixteenth century engravings and paintings from the Netherlands and Italy a scientific romance produced at the turn of the twentieth century by the king of the Caribbean island Redonda contemporary collections of poetry from the anglophone Caribbean a historical novel by the Guadeloupean writer Maryse Condé a Latin epic a Homeric hymn ancient Egyptian rites fairy tales romances from England and Jamaica a long narrative poem by the Nobel Prize winner Derek Walcott and paintings by artists from Europe and the Americas spanning the seventeenth century to the present Caribbean Perspectives on Modernity offers an original and creative contribution to what it means to be modern Mixing Race, Mixing Culture Monika Kaup, Debra Rosenthal, 2002-08-15 Over the last five centuries the story of the Americas has been a story of the mixing of races and cultures Not surprisingly the issue of miscegenation with its attendant fears and hopes has been a pervasive theme in New World literature as writers from Canada to Argentina confront the legacy of cultural hybridization and fusion This book takes up the challenge of transforming American literary and cultural studies into a comparative discipline by examining the dynamics of racial and cultural mixture and its opposite tendency racial and cultural disjunction in the literatures of the Americas Editors Kaup and Rosenthal have brought together a distinguished set of scholars who compare the treatment of racial and cultural mixtures in literature from North America the Caribbean and Latin America From various angles they remap the Americas as a multicultural and multiracial hemisphere with a common history of colonialism slavery racism and racial and cultural hybridity A Successful Novel Must Be in Want of a Sequel M. Carmen Gomez-Galisteo, 2018-04-13 What happened after Mr Darcy married Elizabeth Bennet in Pride and Prejudice Where did Heathcliff go when he disappeared in Wuthering Heights What social ostracism would Hester Prynne of The Scarlet Letter have faced in 20th century America Great novels often leave behind great questions and sequels seek to answer them This critical analysis offers fresh insights into the sequels to seven literary classics including Jane Austen's Sense and Sensibility the Brontë sisters Jane Eyre Louisa May Alcott's Little Women and Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca The Brontë Sisters in Other Wor(l)ds S. Qi, J. Padgett, 2014-10-09 Looking at the works of the Brontë sisters through a translingual transnational and transcultural lens this collection is the first book length study of the Brontës as received and reimagined in languages and cultures outside of Europe and the United States The Routledge Companion to World Literature Theo D'haen, David Damrosch, Djelal Kadir, 2011-09-14 In the age of globalization the category of World Literature is increasingly important to academic teaching and research The Routledge Companion to World Literature offers a comprehensive pathway into this burgeoning and popular field Separated into four key sections the volume covers the history of World Literature through significant writers and theorists from Goethe to Said Casanova and Moretti the disciplinary relationship of World Literature to areas such as philology translation globalization and diaspora studies theoretical issues in World Literature including gender politics and ethics a global perspective on the politics of World Literature The forty eight outstanding contributors to this companion offer an ideal introduction to those approaching the field for the first time or looking to further their knowledge of this extensive field Reclaiming Difference Carine M. Mardorossian, 2005 In Reclaiming Difference Carine Mardorossian examines the novels of four women writers Jean Rhys (Dominica UK) Maryse Condé (Guadeloupe USA) Edwidge Danticat (Haiti USA) and Julia Alvarez (Dominican Republic USA) showing how their writing has radically reformulated the meanings of the national geographical sexual and racial concepts through which postcolonial studies has long been configuring difference Coming from the anglophone francophone and hispanophone Caribbean these writers all stage and identify with transcultural experiences that undermine the usual classification of literary texts in terms of national and regional literatures and by doing so they challenge the idea that racial and cultural identities function as stable points of reference in our unstable world Focusing on the transformations that have taken place in postcolonial studies since the field began to focus on theory Mardorossian highlights not only how these writers make use of the styles of creolization and hybridity that have dominated Caribbean and postcolonial studies in recent years but also how they distinguish themselves from the movement's leading figures by offering new articulations of the ties that link race and nation to gender and class She illuminates how these writers extend the notion of hybridity away from racial and cultural differences in isolation from each other to a set of crisscrossing categories that challenge our simpler normative figurations For scholars in postcolonial studies Caribbean studies literary feminist studies and studies in comparative literature

Reclaiming Difference represents a new phase in postcolonial studies that calls for a fundamental rethinking of the field's terminology and assumptions
