Vacant Spaces:

Vacant Spaces NY Michael Meredith, Hilary Sample, MOS, 2021-12-27 Vacant Spaces NY begins gathering the incomplete data available and documenting vacant spaces in New York City Organized from large to small general to specific vacancy in the United States to case studies of specific vacancies in Manhattan Michael Meredith Hilary Sample and their architecture studio MOS imagine possibilities for repurposing current vacant spaces in New York City This project began by walking around our neighborhood noticing empty storefronts Once we saw them they were everywhere They followed us appearing quietly throughout New York City Many with no signage no for rent no coming soon Usually empty sometimes dusty sometimes with brown paper covering the glass Now vacancy has only increased In the densest city in the United States During a housing crisis Throughout a pandemic The quantity of vacant spaces is anyone's best guess It's only partially documented They hide in plain sight Vacant Spaces NY is organized from large to small general to specific It begins by looking at vacancy within the United States and continues down to each Manhattan neighborhood where we zoom into specific vacant spaces where we have provided as case studies that imagine some possibilities for transforming current vacant spaces into housing or social services There is also a section on Covid 19 which infiltrated New York during our research As a whole this document is not meant to provide specific solutions The data is incomplete Case studies are limited We are not policy experts or data analysts or urban planners Instead it is simply meant to show something we have taken for granted vacant spaces taking part in a collective process of imagining a better city

Spontaneous Structures Jeremy Smith, 2017 Spontaneous Structures The Life of Vacant Spaces is about the vacant public land of Seattle The City of Seattle defines vacant land as land that is not used for its intended purpose This definition begs the question what is the intended purpose of these sites Is it possible they are not being used properly What would be a better use This thesis proposes that a better use for vacant public land is to sell the parcels to non profit organizations With a parcel in hand various NPOs can develop their lots in order to fulfill their social goals This thesis focuses on low income housing and proposes a design for high density housing on a narrow lots

Developing Sustainable Food Systems, Policies, and Securities Obayelu, Abiodun Elijah, Obayelu, Oluwakemi Adeola, 2020-04-17 A food system is sustainable if it delivers food and nutrition security for all without compromising the economic social and environmental bases to generate food security and nutrition for future generations Sustainable food systems are vital in ensuring global health and ending malnutrition in all its forms Assessing important dimensions of the food system such as nutrition sustainable agriculture food loss and waste can provide stakeholders with necessary information to evaluate the strength of their country's food systems and determine where more support is needed Developing Sustainable Food Systems Policies and Securities is a pivotal reference source that explores the nature extent and causes of nutrition problems across the world as well as the role that agricultural policy plays in these issues The book supports the development of sustainable food systems policy options and securities by various countries in
