Variations Collected Short Stories:

Aldous Huxley Claire John Eschelbach, Joyce Lee Shober, 1961 The Year's Best Fantasy and Horror Seventh Annual Collection, 1994 Catalogue of Title Entries of Books and Other Articles, 1898 Staring at Variations Hans-Georg Golz, 1995 Ray Bradbury Jonathan R. Eller, William F. Touponce, 2004 This is a textual bibliographical and cultural study of 60 years of Bradbury's fiction. The authors draw upon correspondence with his publishers, agents, and friends as well as archival manuscripts to examine the story of Bradbury's authorship over more than half a century. The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature. The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis, articulation, and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition. The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade, to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available, and to re-shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries. The Love-adept: a Variation on a Theme Leslie Poles Hartley, 1969 Using Corpora to Explore Linguistic Variation Randi Reppen, Susan M. Fitzmaurice, Douglas Biber, 2002-01-01 Many large scale investigations of linguistic variation are unfeasible using traditional approaches. This volume is a collection of papers that illustrate the ways in which linguistic variation can be explored through corpus based investigation. The Entomologist's Record and Journal of Variation, 1914 Variations, Collected Short Stories Claire LORRIMER, 1993 Godey's Lady's Book, 1897 Amazing, 1984-05 Identification Practices in Twentieth-Century Fiction Rex Ferguson, 2021-07-14 The task of identifying the individual has given rise to a number of technical innovations including fingerprint analysis and DNA profiling. A range of methods have also been created for storing and classifying people's identities such as identity cards and digital records. Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction tests the hypothesis that these techniques and methods as practiced in the UK and US in the long 20th century are inherently related to the literary representation of self-identity from the same period. Until now the question of who one is in the sense of formal identification has remained detached from the question of who one is in terms of the representation of unique individuality. Placing these two questions in dialogue allows for a re-evaluation of the various ways in which uniqueness has been constructed during the period and for a re-assessment of the historical and literary historical context of such construction. In chapters ranging across the development of fingerprinting, the institution of identity cards during the Second World War, DNA profiling, and contemporary digital surveillance, and an analysis of writing by authors including Joseph Conrad, Graham Greene, Elizabeth Bowen, J. G. Ballard, Don DeLillo, and Jennifer Egan, Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction makes an original contribution to the disciplines of English Literature History and Cultural Studies. Catalogue Williams
