Vanishing Landscape:

OUR VANISHING LANDSCAPE. ERIC. SLOAN,1976     Our Vanishing Landscape Eric Sloane,1981-09-01     The Vanishing Landscape Jim Bray,1984     Militarized Landscapes Chris Pearson,Peter Coates,Tim Cole,2010-06-03 The black smoke billowing from burning oil wells during the Gulf War of 1990 91 directed media and public attention towards war s devastating environmental impact Yet even before the first bomb is dropped preparation for warfare materially and imaginatively reshapes rural landscapes and environments This volume is the first to explore the comparative histories and geographies of militarized landscapes Moving beyond the narrow definition of militarized landscapes as theatres of war it treats them as simultaneously material and cultural sites that have been partially or fully mobilized to achieve military aims Ranging from the Korean DMZ to nuclear testing sites in the American West and from Gettysburg to Salisbury Plain Militarized Landscapes focuses on these often secretive hidden dangerous and invariably controversial sites that occupy huge swathes of national territories     Iowa ,2017 IOWA Echoes of a Vanishing Landscape contains 89 of David Ottenstein s black and white photographs and includes texts by Alan Trachtenberg of Yale University and Jonathan Andelson director of the Center for Prairie Studies at Grinnell College in Iowa The book explores the transformation of the Iowa landscape from one based on the agrarian notion of the small diversified farm to a landscape geared toward industrial scale agriculture Ottenstein s photographs of rural and small town Iowa depict sweeping landscapes abandoned farmhouses grain elevators section roads ethanol plants and many more discoveries that he made while wandering Iowa s back roads and forgotten corners as Jonathan Andelson aptly describes it Photographer s website     Abandoned Eric Holubow,2014 Photographs with captions and brief section introductions     Conflict Landscapes Nicholas J. Saunders,Paul Cornish,2021-06-24 Conflict Landscapes explores the long under acknowledged and under investigated aspects of where and how modern conflict landscapes interact and conjoin with pre twentieth century places activities and beliefs as well as with individuals and groups Investigating and understanding the often unpredictable power and legacies of landscapes that have seen and often still viscerally embody the consequences of mass death and destruction the book shows through these landscapes the power of destruction to preserve refocus and often reconfigure the past Responding to the complexity of modern conflict the book offers a coherent integrated and sensitized hybrid approach which calls on different disciplines where they overlap in a shared common terrain Dealing with issues such as memory identity emotion and wellbeing the chapters tease out the human experience of modern conflict and its relationship to landscape Conflict Landscapes will appeal to a wide range of disciplines involved in studying conflict such as archaeology anthropology material culture studies art history cultural history cultural geography military history and heritage and museum studies     Decolonising the Mediterranean Gabriele Proglia,2017-03-07 Decolonising the Mediterranean means first and foremost investigating how the legacy of colonial rule over bodies and land has been used by other entities and powers to impose new forms of hegemony after the fall of empires and European powers It means denouncing and dissecting the tools employed in the production of new geometries of power in the global Mediterranean as well as in the farthest most recondite corners of the Mediterranean World Decolonising the Mediterranean is an epistemological practice of border dismantling and scrutiny of the ways in which powers overlap and intertwine The multiplication of the border is investigated in this volume from an in between position namely a specific positionality of subjectivities in order to connect the global and local and address Mediterranean issues with a transnational approach Decolonising the Mediterranean means thinking of the Mediterranean as a space of investigation beyond its geographical boundaries Finally it requires deconstructing the power relations at play viewing the Mediterranean as an excess space of signification in order to reconsider the past and present stories and subjectivities erased by Eurocentric nationalist historical discourse In this sense the Mediterranean may then be more than a method a matter of politics or a space without borders where the future can be reinvented from the bottom up This volume is structured into six chapters each written by a different author focusing on a single North African Maghreb and Mashrek country s colonial legacy to investigate borders in a transnational perspective While the research directions and topics of investigation adopted here are different they can all be situated on the boundary line described above and each chapter suggests a specific path for decolonising knowledge
