Larry Clark and Masculinity Dirk Reynders, 2025-10-02 Explores the visual representation of masculinity in the work of Larry Clark using this to prompt a wider conversation about the male body in visual culture and art      Harmony Korine Eric Kohn, 2014-11-27 Harmony Korine Interviews tracks filmmaker Korine s stunning rise fall and rise again through his own evolving voice Bringing together interviews collected from over two decades this unique chronicle includes rare interviews unavailable in print for years and an extensive new conversation recorded at the filmmaker s home in Nashville After more than twenty years Harmony Korine b 1973 remains one of the most prominent and yet subversive filmmakers in America Ever since his entry into the independent film scene as the irrepressible prodigy who wrote the screenplay for Larry Clark s Kids in 1992 Korine has retained his stature as the ultimate cinematic provocateur He both intelligently observes modern social milieus and simultaneously thumbs his nose at them Now approaching middle age and more influential than ever Korine remains intentionally sensationalistic and ceaselessly creative He parlayed the success of Kids into directing the dreamy portrait of neglect Gummo two years later With his audacious 1999 digital video drama Julien Donkey Boy Korine continued to demonstrate a penchant for fusing experimental subversive interests with lyrical narrative techniques Surviving an early career burnout he resurfaced with a trifecta of insightful works that built on his earlier aesthetic leanings a surprisingly delicate rumination on identity Mister Lonely a gritty quasi diary film Trash Humpers and a blistering portrait of American hedonism Spring Breakers which yielded significant commercial success Throughout his career he has also continued as a mixed media artist whose fields included music videos paintings photography publishing songwriting and performance art      Teenage Lust Larry Clark, 1983      Photography, Cinema, Memory Damian Sutton, 2009 This is a philosophical investigation into the differing sensations of time in cinema and photography Throughout the work Sutton connects and grounds cinema and photography as starting points to comprehend how we come to terms ultimately with time itself as pure immanent change      Real sex , 1993      Photography after Photography Abigail Solomon-Godeau, 2017-03-23 Presenting two decades of work by Abigail Solomon Godeau Photography after Photography is an inquiry into the circuits of power that shape photographic practice criticism and historiography As the boundaries that separate photography from other forms of artistic production are increasingly fluid Solomon Godeau a pioneering feminist and politically engaged critic argues that the relationships between photography culture gender and power demand renewed attention In her analyses of the photographic production of Cindy Sherman Robert Mapplethorpe Susan Meiselas Francesca Woodman and others Solomon Godeau refigures the disciplinary object of photography by considering these practices through an examination of the determinations of genre and gender as these shape the relations between photographers their images and their viewers

Among her subjects are the 2006 Abu Ghraib prison photographs and the Cold War era exhibition The Family of Man insofar as these illustrate photography's embeddedness in social relations viewing relations and ideological formations
