Touch Time R.E. Mason,2024-09-08 A million years ago Verdans moon was struck by an immense asteroid and smashed to bits The shock wave generated by that collision struck Verdans with such force it caused a disjunction in time and space and the planet momentarily existed in two dimensions Before their combined gravitational attractions could pull them back together massive chunks of moon and asteroid slammed into one of the Verdans The devastation to that world the two spheres were no longer copies of each other and could not reunite They would evolve independently Touch Time is a story of a handful of pilgrims scientists and technicians who had come out from Adrian for work and adventure and had chosen to remain on Verdans despite the difficulties imposed by that planets challenging environment But a new danger threatened those colonists Without prior notice or a heads up Adrian suddenly reversed a prior decision to shut down the base there Instead they intended to take control of that world for the purpose of preparing it to receive the influx of migrants soon to come there To put their plan in motion Adrian sent a military unit out to secure the base and quell any resistance from the original colonists and there would be resistance for a while The Pilgrims knew in the end they d be no match for the number of invaders Adrian would send to put them down Unless they had some place to go a sanctuary they d have no future But known to only a few there might be one place to go if they had the courage to get there in time
