Describing Prescriptivism provides a topical and thought provoking analysis of linguistic prescriptivism in British and American English from a historical as well as present day perspective Focusing on usage guides and usage problems the book takes a three fold approach to present an in depth analysis of the topic featuring a detailed study of the advice provided in usage guides over the years an authoritative comparison of this advice with actual usage as recorded in British and American corpora including the HUGE Hyper Usage Guide of English database developed specifically to enable this line of study as well as more mainstream corpora such as COCA COHA and the BNC a close analysis of the attitudes to particular usage problems among the general public based on surveys distributed online through the Bridging the Unbridgeable research project's blog. With extensive case studies to illustrate and support claims throughout this comprehensive study is key reading for students and researchers of prescriptivism, the history of English and sociolinguistics. Cartoon-illustrated Metaphors Kaiman Lee, 2003 This book is intended to help people who want to spice up the way they talk. It is especially effective for people whose native languages are not English. Verbal metaphors used in appropriate contexts can serve business, social, psychological, and cultural purposes. Each metaphor occupies one page, which makes learning consistent and easy. Each page has a cartoon and a text portion that consists of four categories of information: meaning, alternatives, origin, and usage.

Viruses, Hardware and Software Trojans Anatoly Belous, Vitali Saladukha, 2020-06-27 This book provides readers with a valuable reference on cyber weapons and in particular viruses, software, and hardware Trojans. The authors discuss in detail the most dangerous computer viruses, software Trojans, and spyware models of computer Trojans affecting computers, methods of implementation, and mechanisms of their interaction with an attacker, a hacker, an intruder, or an intelligence agent. Coverage includes Trojans in electronic equipment such as telecommunication systems, computers, mobile communication systems, cars, and even consumer electronics. The evolutionary path of development of hardware Trojans from cabinets, crates, and boxes to the microcircuits IC is also discussed. Readers will benefit from the detailed review of the major known types of hardware Trojans in chips, principles of their design, mechanisms of their functioning, methods of their introduction, means of camouflaging and detecting, as well as methods of protection and counteraction.

Sequels Janet G. Husband, Jonathan F. Husband, 2009 A guide to series fiction lists popular series, identifies novels by character, and offers guidance on the order in which to read unnumbered series.

Close-Up Len Deighton, 2011-06-09 The legendary incendiary novel of the film industry, back in print after 20 years. A Hollywood Babylon for our time.

Rethinking College Education George Allan, 1997 Not a method of turning your degree back in and having your loans forgiven, but an argument that by becoming vocational schools, measured by reduced cost and efficient production, colleges and universities are neglecting their essential purpose. The reason for college education, says Allan, is to provide an environment within which students can absorb the moral practices that determine how they can acquire and evaluate knowledge, best conduct their lives, and become responsible adults. He maintains that such learning requires imagination, dialogue, conversation, and cultured intercourse.
