The Day Of Chaminuka:

The Day of Chaminuka William Rayner,1976 Unpopular Sovereignty Luise White,2015-03-23 A truly satisfactory history of Rhodesia one that takes into account both the African history and that of the whites has never been written That is until now In this book Luise White highlights the crucial tension between Rhodesia as it imagined itself and Rhodesia as it was imagined outside the country Using official documents novels memoirs and conversations with participants in the events taking place between 1965 when Rhodesia unilaterally declared independence from Britain and 1980 when indigenous African rule was established through the creation of the state of Zimbabwe White reveals that Rhodesians represented their state as a kind of utopian place where white people dared to stand up for themselves and did what needed to be done It was imagined to be a place vastly better than the decolonized dystopias to its north In all these representations race trumped all else including any notion of nation Outside Rhodesia on the other hand it was considered a white supremacist utopia a country that had taken its own independence rather than let white people live under black rule Even as Rhodesia edged toward majority rule to end international sanctions and a protracted guerilla war racialized notions of citizenship persisted One man one vote became the natural logic of decolonization of this illegally independent minority ruled renegade state Voter qualification with its minutia of which income was equivalent to how many years of schooling and how African incomes or years of schooling could be rendered equivalent to whites illustrated the core of ideas about and experiences of racial domination White s account of the politics of decolonization in this unprecedented historical situation reveals much about the general processes occurring elsewhere on the African continent NADA ,1975 Research in African Literatures ,1998 Vol 1 spring 1970 include A Bibliography of American doctoral dissertations on African literature compiled by Nancy J Schmidt Zambezia ,1991 Cultural Struggle & Development in Southern Africa Preben Kaarsholm,1991 With a primary focus on Zimbabwe the essays in this book examine art literature politics and religion in settler colonies to document the struggles taking place Mawere: African Cultures, Memory and Space Munyaradzi Mawere,R. Mubaya,2014-07-17 African Cultures Memory and Space is an impeccable volume that powerfully grapples with a gamut of cultural heritage issues challenges and problems from a vista of inter and multi disciplinary approach The book which is designed as a foundational text to the study of culture in ever changing environments makes an important argument that the dynamism of culture in highly globalised societies such as that of Zimbabwe can be studied from any perspective but most importantly through careful examination of cultural elements such as memory oral history and space among others While the book makes special reference to Zimbabwe it profoundly and audaciously dissect and cut across different geographical and cultural spaces through its penetrating interrogation and scrutiny of different issues commonplace in many African contexts and even beyond The book written by scholars from different backgrounds and orientations should appeal to scholars researchers and students from various disciplines which include but not limited to Cultural Heritage Studies Policy Studies Social Cultural Anthropology Sociology Development Studies and African Studies The Columbia Guide to Central African Literature in English Since 1945 Adrian A. Roscoe, 2008 Columbia's guides to postwar African literature paint a unique portrait of the continent's rich and diverse literary traditions. This volume examines the rapid rise and growth of modern literature in the three postcolonial nations of Zimbabwe, Malawi, and Zambia. It tracks the multiple political and economic pressures that have shaped Central African writing since the end of World War II and reveals its authors' heroic efforts to keep their literary traditions alive in the face of extreme poverty and AIDS. Adrian Roscoe begins with a list of key political events. Since writers were composing within both colonial and postcolonial contexts, he pays particular attention to the nature of British colonialism, especially theories regarding its provenance and motivation. Roscoe discusses such historical figures as David Livingstone, Cecil Rhodes, and Sir Harry Johnston, as well as modern power players including Robert Mugabe, Kenneth Kaunda, and Kamuzu Banda. He also addresses efforts to create a literary historical record from an African perspective, an account that challenges white historiographies in which the colonized was neither agent nor informer. A comprehensive alphabetical guide profiles both established and emerging authors and further illustrates issues raised in the introduction. Roscoe then concludes with a detailed bibliography recommending additional reading and sources. At the close of World War II, the people of Central Africa found themselves mired in imperial fatigue and broken promises of freedom. This fueled a desire for liberation and a major surge in literary production, and in this illuminating guide, Roscoe details the campaigns for social justice and political integrity for education and economic empowerment and for gender equity, participatory democracy, rural development, and environmental care that characterized this exciting period of development.

Violence and Memory in Zimbabwean Literature Tanaka Chidora, 2025-12-01. This book investigates how Zimbabwean literary texts subvert state-sponsored amnesia when it comes to the many forms of past and ongoing political violence in Zimbabwe. Zimbabwean Literature provides an important space for confronting the past and reflecting on how violence continues into the present day. This violent past was forgotten either through the promise of violence against those who sought to remember or by depicting the violence as a necessary tool of a never-ending decolonisation process or by appealing to the logic of letting bygones be bygones. For instance, by claiming that the five years of the Gukurahundi genocide

were a moment of madness Robert Mugabe set a climate of state sponsored amnesia which has persisted through subsequent acts of state violence and into the Mnangagwa era Drawing on key works by Shimmer Chinodya Alexander Kanengoni Yvonne Vera Novuyo Rosa Tshuma Brian Chikwava Chenjerai Hove Panashe Chigumadzi and NoViolet Bulawayo this book investigates how fictional works challenge this state sponsored amnesia in relation both to Gukurahundi and other past and ongoing forms of violence Bringing together iconic literary texts from 1980 to 2022 the book draws a common thread through the texts connected histories and highlights their role in de silencing the past Situated at the interface of memory studies and literary criticism this book will be of interest to researchers across the fields of African literature politics development and history African Magic Heidi Holland,2012-09-26 Africa s traditional beliefs including ancestor worship divination and witchcraft continue to dominate its spiritual influences Readers in search of a better understanding of the continent will be enriched by this book s timely exploration of sub Saharan Africa s natural philosophy The author s meticulous research reveals that whereas technology driven Western societies prefer to rely largely on logical explanations many Africans continue to obey their intuition trusting in images dreams and divination to rationalise misfortune and illness African Magic explains why so many Africans understand the relationship between people and unfortunate events not through the Western concept of chance in the case of accidents or germ theory in the case of illness but through belief in witchcraft The book records a collection of true stories which illustrate this traditional belief system Included are the famous Malawian diviner whose prophecies were considered so accurate that people flocked from neighbouring countries to consult him a group of Western trained Mozambican psychologists who successfully refined cross cultural therapy by working with traditional healers to combat post traumatic stress syndrome among child soldiers Ghanaian and Zimbabwean witches living in a nightmare world where popular belief becomes their reality and a Zambian archbishop whose attempt to embrace traditional African beliefs provoked serious conflict within his Christian church Moto ,2001
