The deerstalkers Henry William Herbert, 1843 The Deerstalkers Henry William Herbert, 1992-07-01 Bonded Leather binding The Deerstalkers - A Sporting Tale of the South-Western Counties Frank Forester, 2008-10-01 Many of the earliest books particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive We are republishing these classic works in affordable high quality modern editions using the original text and artwork Frank Forester's Sporting Scenes and Characters: My shooting box. The deerstalkers Henry William Herbert, 1857 Deerstalkers Deluxe Ed Nz Philip Holden, 1994-04-01 The Deerstalkers Henry William Herbert, 1859 The Harmsworth Encyclopædia, 1905 The Deer Forests of Scotland Augustus Grimble, 1896 The Deerstalkers Henry William Herbert, 2020-05-15 This is a reproduction of the original artefact Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended Since the original versions are generally quite old there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions We're happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy A History of Hunting New Zealand Deerstalkers' Association Staff, 2013 The New Zealand Deerstalkers Association is 75 years old A milestone in any organisation's history To celebrate this book has been compiled to show a snapshot of the organisation today how it has progressed in the past 25 years since its fiftieth anniversary when a history of the NZDA was written by Philip Holden to mark that milestone and how it looks towards the future Any organisation is only as strong as its membership so members of the NZDA have written this book Each contributor an acknowledged expert in his or her field They have described the status of each of the large game animal species in New Zealand and their potential for tomorrow's hunters together with a review of firearms legislation as it really is Also covered is the massive contribution the Association is making to the education of hunters throughout New Zealand by the NZDA HUNTS programme and the building of new and modern range facilities where acknowledged experts can pass on shooting and mountaineering skills In his forward President Tim McCarthy says The future of hunting in New Zealand is on the edge of entering a new phase with the agreement of all interested parties in the hunting fraternity of New Zealand joining together to promote large game animal management of deer tahr chamois and pigs under the banner of the Game Animal Council In my opinion this is by far the most positive move we have seen in the history of New Zealand deerstalking It is fitting then that the NZDA takes this opportunity to reflect on its history its achievements its place in today s society and the new opportunities the future will bring Nelson's Encyclopaedia ,1907 The Keeper's Book Sir Peter Jeffrey Mackie (bart.),1910 Deer David Yerex,2001 This new book tells the amazing story of red deer in New Zealand since their introduction in the 1850s to provide sport for settlers At first some great trophies were taken but before long deer had so expanded in numbers and range they were eating out the native forests and raiding farmland This led to their being declared a pest and to control measures that created a hunting subculture encompassing all levels of society There were the deer cullers employed by the government in a vain attempt at eradication and from whom arose the legend of the Good Keen Man There were also private shooters out to score bigger and better trophies or meat for the table and commercial hunters who found ways to turn pest into profit Then came the entrepreneurs who opened overseas markets for venison and deer products shooting and recovering the animals by helicopter or jet boat from remote and rugged country Later innovators developed live capture of deer and set the scene for farming them an enterprise that after 40 years is now conspicuous almost everywhere in the rural landscape Today whether pursued by hunters in the wild or farmed behind fences to earn export dollars deer remain controversial but are an undeniably significant part of New Zealand s history DEER THE NEW ZEALAND STORY provides a detailed highly readable overview that draws upon a lifetime s experience in the worlds of deer farming and hunting David Yerex has been specially commissioned by a group of leading figures in the deer industry who have provided many photographs and much information never previously published The resulting book will be appreciated by all with an interest in hunting farming the environment and their nation s history
