The Devil's Treasure Mary Gaitskill, 2023-08-15 A rare work of criticism memoir and mythography from an author aware of all the hidden chambers of the heart Greil Marcus New York Times Magazine Mary Gaitskill is unique among American novelists in her ability to evoke the hidden life the life unseen the life we don't even know we are living In this searching biography of the writer's imagination Gaitskill excavates her own novels revealing their origins and obsessions the personal and societal pressures that formed them and the life story hidden between their pages Using the techniques of collage The Devil's Treasure splices fiction together with commentary and personal history and with the fairy tale that gives the book its title about a little girl who ventures into Hell through a suburban cellar door The result is an answer to Gaitskill's critics and simultaneously the best book we have about contemporary fiction the forces ranged against it and the forces that bring it into being Even among other artists attracted to weakness as a theme Gaitskill is rare in being able to look at it on its own terms She doesn't treat it like a curiosity like Diane Arbus or a chink in the armor that might let in faith like Flannery O'Connor She isn't afraid of it like Muriel Spark nor does she insist its depictions rouse us to action like Sontag She looks just looks and sees everything Parul Seghal New York Times Magazine

Scared of Fear Sean Marshall, 2006-05 Scared of Fear is when someone has fear of being scared of the uncertain When you read these and poems you will understand the meaning scared of fear The stories and poems that you are about to read are unique in their own ways When you read the endings use your imagination These stories are mysterious in that sense of fiction or it seems to appear in that way but actually it could be reality You will have to decide Enjoy the creation of horror and terror in the past present and future of the unknown reality
