Arthur Koestler,1976 Emotions and Religious Dynamics Mr Nathaniel A Warne,Professor Douglas J. Davies,2014-02-28
We all feel emotions and are moved to action by them Religious communities often select and foster certain emotions over others Without understanding this it is hard to grasp the way groups view the world and each other Often it is the underlying emotional pattern of a group rather than its doctrines that either divides it from or attracts it to others These issues so important in today s world are explored in this book in a genuinely interdisciplinary way by anthropologists psychologists theologians and historians of religion and in some detailed studies of well and less well known religious traditions from across the world Intelligent Production Machines and Systems - 2nd I*PROMS Virtual International Conference 3-14 July 2006 Duc T. Jennings,1984-09-27 This 1984 symposium volume was the first of its kind to deal specifically with the vegetative fungal mycelium The Host in the Machine Angela Thomas-Jones,2010-07-27 This text tackles online social networks by navigating these systems from the birth to the death of the digital self The author begins by examining the creation of a virtual identity in online networks popularized by websites such as Facebook and Myspace The book subsequently explores how the social self is intrinsic to how social cultural and professional relationships are discovered forged and maintained The text journeys through the popular criticisms of social networking such as employee time wasting bullying stalking the alleged links between social networks and suicide and the decline of a user s public image The dissonance between the performance of the virtual and non virtual selves and the offline issues that can ensue are contextualized by the social nature of these online networks The discussion of this digital life ends by addressing the intricacies of becoming web dead which explores how a user removes their identity with finality from social networks and the entire web Planning Canadian Regions Gerald Hodge,Ira M. Robinson,2007-10-01 Planning Canadian Regions is the first book to consolidate the history evolution current practice and future prospects for regional planning in Canada As planners grapple with challenges wrought by globalization the evolution of massive new city regions and the pressures of sustainable and community development a deeper understanding of Canada s approaches is invaluable Hodge and Robinson identify the conceptual and historical foundations of regional planning and propose a new planning paradigm that emphasizes regional governance and greater inclusiveness and integration of physical planning with planning for economic sustainability and natural ecosystems

Threads of Life Richard Freadman,2001-02 Many autobiographers share profound questions about human life with their readers questions like To what extent was my life imposed on me To what extent did I bring it about through particular choices and actions through the activity of my own will Indeed the issue of the will is central to autobiographical writing and some of the greatest autobiographies give extended consideration to the will its nature its powers its limitations the forms of freedom constraint and expression it finds in various cultures its role in particular human lives In this new study unprecedented in subject and scope Richard Freadman offers the first sustained account of how changing theological philosophical and psychological accounts of the human will have been reflected in the writing of autobiography and of how autobiography in its turn has helped shape various understandings of the will Early chapters trace narrative representations of the will from antiquity the Greeks and Augustine to postmodernism Derrida and Barthes with particular emphasis on late modernity s culture of the will Later chapters then present detailed and powerfully original readings of autobiographical texts by Louis Althusser Roland Barthes B F Skinner Ernest Hemingway Simone de Beauvoir Arthur Koestler Stephen Spender and Diana Trilling Freadman s interdisciplinary approach to autobiography and the will includes a theoretical defense of the view that autobiographers are in varying degrees agents in their own texts

Threads of Life argues that late modernity has inherited deeply conflicted attitudes to the will Freadman suggests that these attitudes now deeply embedded in contemporary cultural discourse need reexamining In this he contends reflective autobiography has an important part to play
