The Girl in Her Teens Margaret Slattery,2016-01-07 THE TEEN PERIOD She was a beautiful well developed girl of thirteen Her bright eager face with its changing expression was a fascination at all times It seemed unusually earnest and serious that particular morning as she stood waiting the opportunity to speak to me She had asked to wait until the others had gone and her manner as she hesitated even then to speak made me ask Are you in trouble Edith No not exactly trouble I don t know whether we ought to ask you but all of us girls think well we wish we could have a mirror in the locker room Couldn t we It s dreadful to go into school without knowing how your hair looks or anything I couldn t help laughing Her manner was so tragic that the mirror seemed the most important thing in the educational system just then I said I would see what could be done about it and felt sure that what all the girls wanted could be supplied She thanked me heartily and when she entered her own room nodded her head in answer to inquiring glances from the other girls As I made a note of the request I remembered the Edith of a year or more ago Edith whose mother found her a great trial she didn t care how she looked It was true She wore her hat hanging down over her black braids held on by the elastic band around her neck she lost hair ribbons continually and never seemed to miss them She was a good scholar wide awake alert always ready for the next thing She loved to recite and volunteered information generously In games she was the leader and on the playground always the unanimous choice for the coveted it of the game She was never in the least self conscious and as her mother had said how she looked never seemed to occur to her

The Girl in the Text Ann Smith,2019-07-16 How are girls represented in written and graphic texts and how do these representations inform our understanding of girlhood In this volume contributors examine the girl in the text in order to explore a range of perspectives on girlhood across borders and in relation to their positionality In literary and transactional texts girls are presented as heroes who empower themselves and others with lasting effect as figures of liberating pedagogical practice and educational activism and as catalysts for discussions of the relationship between desire and ethics In these varied chapters a new notion of transnationalism emerges one rooted not only in the process through which borders between nation states become more porous but through which cultural and ethnic imperatives become permeable The Girl in the Picture Denise Chong,2001-08-01 More than any other Vietnam book in recent years The Girl in the Picture confronts us with the ceaseless ever compounding casualties of modern warfare The San Francisco Chronicle On June 8 1972 nine year old Kim Phuc severely burned by napalm ran from her blazing village in South Vietnam and into the eye of history Her photograph one of the most unforgettable images of the twentieth century was seen around the world and helped turn public opinion against the Vietnam War This book is the story of how that photograph came to be and the story of what happened to that girl after the camera shutter closed Award winning biographer Denise Chong's portrait of Kim Phuc who eventually defected to Canada and is now a UNESCO spokesperson is a rare look at the Vietnam War from the Vietnamese point of view and one of the only books to describe everyday life in the wake of this war and to probe its lingering effects on all its participants
