The Gobbins:

A Guide to the Giants' Causeway, and the North East Coast of the County of Antrim, 1834 The Irish Naturalist, 1894
The Story of the Irish Race Seumas MacManus, 1921 Ingenious Ireland Mary L. Mulvihill, 2003-12-23 Ingenious Ireland takes readers on a magnificent tour of the country's natural wonders, clever inventions, and historic sites. Richly illustrated and meticulously compiled, Ingenious Ireland introduces readers to the complete history, culture, and landscape of all thirty-two Irish counties. Mary Mulvihill unearths Ireland's treasures and divulges her secrets, such as the oldest fossil footprints in the Northern Hemisphere, the advent of railways, the invention of milk of magnesia, and why the shamrock is a sham. Fascinating and comprehensive, Ingenious Ireland unravels the mysteries and marvels of this remarkable country.

The Passenger: Ireland The Passenger, 2022-04-12 The best new writing, photography, art, and reportage from and about Ireland in the series that's like a literary vacation. Publishers Weekly: Ireland is a land full of charm and conflict, a country that in just a few decades has gone from being a poor, semi-theocratic society to a thriving economy free from the influence of the Catholic Church. With the 1998 peace agreements, the conflict between nationalists and unionists seemed, if not resolved, at least dormant. But Brexit, with the ambiguous position it leaves Northern Ireland in, has caused old tensions to resurface with ramifications in politics, society, culture, and sport. Meanwhile, south of the border, epochal transformation has seen a deeply patriarchal, conservative society give space to diversity: the only country in the world to enshrine gay marriage in law through a referendum. And there's a whole other Ireland abroad: an Irish diaspora that looks to the old country with newfound pride but doesn't forget the ugliness it fled from. Memory and identity intertwine with the transformations from globalization to climate change that are remodeling the Irish landscape: from the coastal communities under threat of disappearing along with the Irish language, fishermen use to talk about the sea inland, the peat bogs until recently important sources of energy and jobs are being abandoned. Pieces in this collection include The Mass by Catherine Dunne and Caelainn Hogan, The Way Back by Colum McCann, A Trip to Westeros by Mark O'Connell. Plus, life on the margins of two unions and, right in the middle of Brexit, making war on each other for thirty years while playing on the same national rugby team, emigrating to the great enemy, or transforming the country one referendum at a time, digging peat bogs and building cottages, talking of the sea in Gaelic, and much more. These books are so rich and engrossing that it is rewarding to read them even when one is stuck at home. The Times Literary Supplement

This is a new and distinct area of practice that weaves together and extends narrative theory, spatial theory, and design theory. Examples of narrative spaces such as exhibitions, brand experiences urban design and socially engaged participatory interventions in the public realm are explored to show how space acts as a medium of communication through a synthesis of materials structures and technologies and how particular social behaviours are reproduced or critiqued through spatial narratives This book will be of interest to scholars in design studies urban studies architecture new materialism and design practitioners in the creative industries
