The Gold Bug Variations:

Gold Bug Variations Richard Powers, 1992-07-31 A national bestseller voted by Time as the 1 novel of 1991 selected as one of the Best Books of 1991 by Publishers Weekly and nominated for a National Book Critics Circle Award a magnificent story that probes the meaning of love science music and art by the brilliant author of Three Farmers on Their Way to a Dance

The Gold Bug Variations Richard Powers, 1992 A double love story of two young couples separated by a distance of 25 years The author also wrote Prisoner s Dilemma and Three Farmers on Their Way to a Dance The Gold Bug Variations Richard Powers, 2025-06-12 A love story of charm and substance brimming over with ideas yet anchored in emotional truth SUNDAY TELEGRAPH Powers has triumphantly restored the philosophical novel OBSERVER A heroic tour de force NEW YORK TIMES In 1957 brilliant biologist Stuart Ressler sets out to crack the genetic code Yet his efforts are sidetracked by other more complex codes social moral musical and spiritual as he falls in love with a member of his research team Years later another young man and woman investigate a different mystery why did the promising Ressler suddenly vanish from the world of science Strand by strand these two love stories intertwine in a double helix of desire in an enthralling tale about new love and the mysteries of science Goldbug Variations Powers, 1994-03-01 Wild Science Janine Marchessault, Kim Sawchuk, 2000 Everyday viewers are confronted with shocking news reports and sensational images about DNA and cloning the fight against AIDS cancer and depression The Cryptographic Imagination Shawn James Rosenheim, 2020-03-24 Originally published in 1996 In The Cryptographic Imagination Shawn Rosenheim uses the writings of Edgar Allan Poe to pose a set of questions pertaining to literary genre cultural modernity and technology Rosenheim argues that Poe s cryptographic writing his essays on cryptography and the short stories that grew out of them requires that we rethink the relation of poststructural criticism to Poe s texts and more generally reconsider the relation of literature to communication Cryptography serves not only as a template for the language character and themes of much of Poe s late fiction including his creation the detective story but also as a secret history of literary modernity itself Both postwar fiction and literary criticism the author writes are deeply indebted to the rise of cryptography in World War II Still more surprising in Rosenheim s view Poe is not merely a source for such literary instances of cryptography as the codes in Conan Doyle s The Dancing Men or in Jules Verne but through his effect on real cryptographers Poe s writing influenced the outcome of World War II and the development of the Cold War However unlikely such ideas sound The Cryptographic Imagination offers compelling evidence that Poe s cryptographic writing clarifies one important avenue by which the twentieth century called itself into being The strength of Rosenheim s work extends to a revisionistic understanding of the entirety of literary history as a repression of cryptography and then in a breathtaking shift of register interlinks Poe s exercises in cryptography with the hyperreality of the CIA the Cold War and the Internet What enables this extensive range of applications is the stipulated tension Rosenheim discerns in the relationship between the forms of the literary imagination and the condition of its mode of production

Cryptography in this account names the technology of literary production the diacritical relationship between decoding and encoding that the literary imagination dissimulates as hieroglyphics the hermeneutic relationship between a sign and its content Donald E Pease Dartmouth College Time and the Literary Karen Newman, Jay Clayton, Marianne Hirsch, 2013-09-13 Time and the literary the immediacy of information technology has supposedly annihilated both Email cell phones satellite broadcasting seem to have ended the long standing tradition of encoding our experience of time through writing Paul de Man's seminal essay Literary History and Literary Modernity and newly commissioned essays on everything from the human genome to grammatical tenses argue however that the literary constantly reconstructs our understanding of time From eleventh century France or a science fiction future Time and the Literary shows how these two concepts have been and will continue to influence each other Identification Practices in Twentieth-Century Fiction Rex Ferguson, 2021-07-14 The task of identifying the individual has given rise to a number of technical innovations including fingerprint analysis and DNA profiling A range of methods have also been created for storing and classifying people's identities such as identity cards and digital records Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction tests the hypothesis that these techniques and methods as practiced in the UK and US in the long 20th century are inherently related to the literary representation of self identity from the same period Until now the question of who one is in the sense of formal identification has remained detached from the question of who one is in terms of the representation of unique individuality Placing these two questions in dialogue allows for a re evaluation of the various ways in which uniqueness has been constructed during the period and for a re assessment of the historical and literary historical context of such construction In chapters ranging across the development of fingerprinting the institution of identity cards during the Second World War DNA profiling and contemporary digital surveillance and an analysis of writing by authors including Joseph Conrad Graham Greene Elizabeth Bowen J G Ballard Don DeLillo and Jennifer Egan Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction makes an original contribution to the disciplines of English Literature History and Cultural Studies Warring Fictions Jim Neilson, 1998 Although the Vietnam conflict ended two decades ago a fierce cultural war over how its literature is to be perceived continues to be waged Warring Fictions accuses American critics of twenty years of whitewash and reminds us that Vietnam was not just an American anguish and its fiction a rock and roll acid trip From the blind patriotism of The Green Berets to the postmodern hip of Dispatches this book brings history and politics back to the Vietnam War novel It is a brilliant case study of canon formation and of the role commercial and academic literary institutions have played in assessing Vietnam War fiction it exposes their complicity in the writing of recent American history and rebukes academic literary culture that speciously purports a radical calling for itself Beyond an academic audience this book will challenge all who are piqued by studies of the war and of Vietnam War fiction And it raises important questions about the interlocking interests and ideologies of literary culture the publishing industry the mass media and the academy With its exemplary command of actual history and its well documented investigation of the Vietnam fiction canon this book throws a probing light on a literary culture whose tastes and attitudes have helped enforce a conservative interpretation of the war In extraordinary readings of The Quiet American The Ugly American The Prisoners of Quai Dong The Laotian Fragments Dispatches The Things They Carried and In Country Warring Fictions provides a radical historical perspective on the fiction that emerged from the Vietnam War

The Gold Bug Edgar Allan Poe,1928 Time ,1991 American Writers Jay Parini,2002 Contains biographical and critical essays on the work of important American writers Presents scholar signed essays prepared by experts in the field American Writers Leonard Unger,A. Walton Litz,Molly Weigel,Lea Bechler,Jay Parini,1974 Contains biographical and critical essays on the work of important American writers Presents scholar signed essays prepared by experts in the field The Nation ,1902 Walking the Möbius Strip Johanna Heil,2016 Walking the Mobius Strip locates Richard Powers s fiction at the crossroads of postmodern and post postmodern aesthetics and argues that this paradigm shift shapes the models of knowledge and understanding that underwrite his work The readings of Plowing the Dark Galatea 2 2 and The Echo Maker are inspired by Jacques Lacan s image of cognition as a Mobius strip on which different forms of propositional and non propositional knowledge bleed into and depend upon one another Drawing on feminist epistemology and psychoanalysis this study highlights Powers s interest in the non propositional aspects of cognition that is in all that escapes the frameworks of scientific empiricism and can only be known through the mediation of fictional narrative It reveals a deep dissatisfaction in the novels with the suggestion that knowledge and understanding must be objective and rational and elucidates Powers s idea that fiction can be a powerful tool for integrating various kinds of knowledge Magill's Survey of American Literature Frank Northen Magill,1991 This set presents 190 American writers for the 17th to the late 20th century

Playing the Changes Craig Hansen Werner,1994 In Playing the Changes Craig Hansen Werner presents a polyrhythmic approach to the continuities and discontinuities of the American literary tradition He focuses on the relationship between two superficially distinct traditions European post modernism and African American culture in both literary and musical forms A primary contribution of Playing the Changes is its exploration of different phrasings of issues important to highly conscious African American artists from the late nineteenth century Charles Chesnutt s The Conjure Woman to the 1990s Toni Morrison s Jazz A final sequence highlights the centrality of black music to African American writing arguing that recognizing blues gospel and jazz as theoretically suggestive cultural practices rather than specific musical forms points to what is most distinctive in twentieth century African American writing its ability to subvert attempts to limit its engagement with psychological historical political or aesthetic realities Review of Contemporary Fiction ,1993

Literature and Science Wai-chee Dimock,Priscilla Wald,2002 The goal of this special issue of American Literature is to encourage scholars in both the sciences and the humanities to estrange themselves from their regular ways of thinking Committed to understanding what each discipline has to teach the other the contributors explore the changes in topics approaches and methodologies in the sciences technology and the humanities that surface when scholars take seriously the mandate to consider the basic assumptions of each field from the other point of view The essays address the mutual impact of literature and science through a range of issues geek novels as a subgenre of literature about science the relationship of narrative form to risk analysis and ecological disaster the impact of realism and contemporary developments in neurology and brain biology and the use of technology in the humanities The essays also examine how the humanities explore scientific issues such as in vitro fertilization and human existence cloning and molecular biology and the concept of time Contributors Jay Clayton Wai Chee Dimock N Katherine Hayles Ursula Heise Randall Knoper Martha Nell Smith Stephanie Turner Priscilla Wald Robyn Wiegman Translating the Unspeakable Kathleen Fraser,2000 This collection of 18 essays by the poet Kathleen Fraser combines autobiography and criticism to examine what it means for an artist to innovate instead of following an already travelled path The essays also examine modernist women writers their contemporary successors and their visual poetics
