Thought Words And Creativity:

Thought, Words and Creativity Frank Raymond Leavis, 1976 Kritische analyse van vier prozawerken van de Engelse auteur D H Lawrence 1885 1930 Of Thoughts And Words: The Relation Between Language And Mind - Proceedings Of Nobel Symposium 92 Sture Allen, 1995-11-17 The concept of language is an elusive one and the concept of mind even more so Still the relation between them is of current interest in many quarters The purpose of the Nobel Symposium on language and mind was to establish a forum for the discussion of this fundamental relation in a creative perspective Representatives of several fields of knowledge arts and research gathered in an interdisciplinary setting focusing on five aspects literature general linguistics psycholinguistics neurology and artificial intelligence Shapes of Openness Matthew Leone, 2010-01-08 Bakhtin and Lawrence share remarkable affinities Bakhtinian dialogism is effectively a philosophy of potentiality and Lawrence or at least the Lawrence who authored Women in Love may well be its High Priest Both thinkers address questions of unity newness and the creative process In this study they enter into complementary genuinely Bakhtinian dialogue one in which The word in language is half someone else s One surprising result of this comparative examination is that some prevalent deeply damaging biases about Lawrence are undermined Is he a misogynist or is he essentially as he seems evidently to fear in Women in Love and rather consistently elsewhere an over compensating momma s boy Here Bakhtinian theory is used as a means of testing pertinent criticism of Lawrence and it provides a detailed conceptual basis for the readings of his fiction that follow Is Women in Love a Bakhtinian open totality How is dialogic openness as opposed to modernist indeterminacy a form shaping ideology of comic interrogation Is Women in Love not only open ended and unresolved but also about its open endedness or unfinalizability In methods and meanings in forming depths and explicit surfaces this study explores the sum and substance of the novel s dialogicality and finds that the shape of its dialogic openness is interrogative Indeed in Women in Love characters are identified by the self shaping questions they ask How much do you love me asks Gudrun of Gerald whose What do women want at the bottom like Ursula s Do you really love me have surprisingly revelatory depths Birkin s ludicrously encompassing and apocalyptic Is our day of creative life finished not only expresses a fundamental authorial narrative intention it simultaneously and self correctively mocks itself for so doing and does so in ways that may well suggest intuitive insights into the nature of Bakhtinian carnival laughter In large measure character in the Bakhtinian framework appropriated by this study is essentially a question personified one that is made to walk and talk so to speak within the intersecting chronotopes or time space zones of the novel Such ambulatory interrogations then either connect or fail to do so with other characters as questions in living conversation Women in Love achieves a polyphonic or dialogic openness one that Lawrence in his later fictions cannot always sustain Subsequent to it univocal simplifying organizations in his work supervene In his later fictions dialogic process collapses into a stenographic report upon completed dialogue over which the travel writer the poet or the messianic martyr preside There are nevertheless even in his later works happy exceptions to this diminution of dialogic vitality Lawrence's consummate dialogic openness of thought and expression can be discerned in the ambivalent laughter of The Captain's Doll of St Mawr and of The Man Who Loved Islands In these retrospective variations on earlier themes laughing openness of vision takes new unfinalizable or open shapes
