Three Remarkable Maritimers:

Myth, Symbol and Colonial Encounter Jennifer Reid, 1995 From the time of the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713 people of British origin have shared the area of New Brunswick Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island traditionally called Acadia with Eastern Canada's Algonkian speaking peoples the Mi kmaq Despite nearly three centuries of interaction these communities have largely remained alienated from one another What were the differences between Mi kmaq and British structures of valuation What were the consequences of Acadia's colonization for both Mi kmaq and British people By examining the symbolic and mythic lives of these peoples Reid considers the eighteenth and nineteenth century roots of this alienation and suggests that interaction between British and Mi kmaq during the period was substantially determined by each group's fundamental religious need to feel rooted to feel at home in Acadia
