it was adjudged brutal in his day and certainly contributed to alienate his public From the time of his beginnings and of his successes however lighting played a major part in his conception of painting and he made it the principal instrument of his investigations into the arcana of interior life It already revealed to him the poetry of human physiognomy when he painted The Philosopher in Meditation or the Holy Family so deliciously absorbed in its modest intimacy or for example in The Angel Raphael leaving Tobias Soon he asked for something more The Night Watch marks at once the apotheosis of his reputation He had a universal curiosity and he lived meditated dreamed and painted thrown back on himself He thought of the great Venetians borrowing their subjects and making of them an art out of the inner life of profound emotion Mythological and religious subjects were treated as he treated his portraits For all that he took from reality and even from the works of others he transmuted it instantly into his own substance
