Window Of Opportunity:

The Window of Opportunity David James Purslove Barker, Renate L. Bergmann, Pearay L. Ogra, 2008-01-01 There is no longer any doubt that the inherited genetic constitution of the individual has a large influence on the entire life cycle from human fetal development and pre and postnatal growth to subsequent health status However growing evidence suggests that this predisposition is not rigid but that early genetic imprinting caused by exposure to a diverse spectrum of nutrients macromolecules microbial agents and other cellular or soluble components present in the external environment is also of importance According to this concept of the developmental origins of adult diseases intrauterine and early life events play an important role in the etiology of human diseases there seems to exist a critical window of opportunity in the human infant before and during pregnancy and up to 24 months of age Altered exposure to different environmental agents during this critical period may determine the nature of responses in the perinatal period and the expression of specific disease states in later life The papers presented in this publication thus focus on the impact of perinatal growth nutrition environmental microflora and host immune responses on the outcome of health and disease in later life

Windows of Opportunity David Sainsbury, 2020-02-27 Is neoclassical economics dead Why have the biggest industrial economies stagnated since the financial crisis Is the competitive threat from China a tired metaphor or a genuine danger to our standard of living Lord David Sainsbury draws on his experience in business and government to assemble the evidence and comes to some startling conclusions In Windows of Opportunity he argues that economic growth comes not as a steady process but as a series of jumps based on investment in high value added firms Because these firms are engaged in winner takes all competition rapid growth in one country can indeed come at the expense of growth in another contrary to the standard models He suggests a new theory of growth and development with a role for government in picking winners at the level of technologies and industries rather than individual firms With the role of industrial policy at the centre of the Brexit debate but a significant intellectual gap in setting out what that policy should be this book could not be more timely The Window of Opportunity: Pre-Pregnancy to 24 Months of Age D. J. P. Barker, R. L. Bergmann, P. L.
