The Play Within the Play Gerhard Fischer,Bernhard

Greiner, 2007 The thirty chapters of this innovative international study are all devoted to the topic of the play within the play. The authors explore the wide range of aesthetic, literary, theoretical, and philosophical issues associated with this rhetorical device not only in terms of its original meta-theatrical setting from the baroque idea of a theatrum mundi onward to contemporary examples of postmodern self-referential dramaturgy but also with regard to a variety of different generic applications e.g. in narrative fiction, musical theatre, and film. The authors, internationally recognized specialists in their respective fields, draw on recent debates in such areas as postcolonial studies, game and systems theories, media and performance studies to analyze the specific qualities and characteristics of the play within the play as ultimate affirmation of the self, the Hamlet paradigm as a self-reflective agency of meta-theatrical discourse and as a vehicle of intermedial and intercultural transformation. The challenging study, with its underlying premise of play as a key feature of cultural anthropology and human creativity, breaks new ground by placing the play within the play at the centre of a number of intersecting scholarly discourses on areas of topical concern to scholars in the humanities.

Tan, 1993 This study looks at how stylistic methods apply to drama texts and focuses its attention on Stoppard's Travesties which by its parodic nature compels an investigation of literary parody as an intertextual mode. The author first seeks to place stylistics within a historical and procedural framework and considers ideological and procedural impasses that have bedevilled stylistic analyses. Detailed analyses of passages from Travesties in the light of what has been discussed then follows.
