The Return of the Sacred Joost De Blank,1966 The Return of the Sacred? The Argument on the Future of Religion Daniel Bell,1977 The Return of the Sacred Rita Hamm,2025-08-29 In a time when meaning feels fractured and the sacred has been buried beneath distraction The Return of the Sacred is a gentle call to remembrance Through poetic insight and lived experience this work invites us to reawaken our reverence for life not in grand gestures but in the smallest of moments It explores how sacredness can be restored to our daily rituals relationships and even our grief We are reminded that the sacred was never lost only forgotten This book does not preach or promise it simply points us back toward the heartbeat of what matters A quiet offering for anyone seeking a softer truer way of being The Return of the Sacred F. David Peat,2001-04 The Chautauquan ,1893 The Sacred Secret Donald E. Teeter,2001-10-09 The Sacred Secret The Return of the Christ The Author presents evidence based on thirty years of independent scientific research This evidence basically convicts one Lifeform of being a God This lifeform has over two hundred Names A lifeform Born of Thunder that Resurrects from the dead A lifeform that makes the Blind see the Deaf hear the Lame to walk and cures all the sick This lifeform is the root of Western Religion the Living God of all the ancient Holy Texts There is only one real secret in all the Western World and the Sacred Secret is it Five months at Cairo and in Lower Egypt, tr. by W. Museums without Borders Robert R. Janes, 2015-12-14 Drawing together nearly 40 years of experience Museums without Borders presents the key works of one of the most respected practitioners and scholars in the field Through these selected writings Robert R. Janes demonstrates that museums have a broader role to play in society than is conventionally assumed He approaches the fundamental questions of why museums exist and what they mean in terms of identity community and the future of civil life This book consists of four Parts Indigenous Peoples Managing Change Social Responsibility and Activism and Ethics The Parts are ordered chronologically and each begins with an introduction and an overview of the ensuing articles which situates the papers in their historical and cultural contexts Using an interdisciplinary approach that combines anthropology ethnography museum studies and management theory Janes both questions and supports mainstream museum practice in a constructive and self reflective manner offering readers alternative viewpoints on important issues Considering concepts not generally recognized in museum practice such as the Roman leadership model of primus inter pares and the Buddhist concept of mindfulness Janes argues that the global museum community must examine how they can meet the needs of the planet and its inhabitants Museums without Borders charts the evolving role of the contemporary museum in the face of environmental societal and ethical challenges and explores issues that have and will continue to shape the museum sector for decades to come This book demonstrates that it is both reasonable and essential to expand the purpose of museums at this point in history not only because of their unique characteristics and value to society but also because of Janes respect and admiration for their rich legacy It is time that museums assist in the creation of a new caring and more conscious future for themselves and their communities This can only be done through authentic engagement with contemporary issues and aspirations

Making Representations Moira G. Simpson, 2012-12-06 Drawing upon material from Britain Canada the United States Australia and New Zealand Making Representations explores the ways in which museums and anthropologists are responding to pressures in the field by developing new policies and practices and forging new relationships with communities Simpson examines the increasing number of museums and cultural centres being established by indigenous and immigrant communities as they take control of the interpretive process and challenge the traditional role of the museum Museum studies students and museum professionals will all find this a stimulating and valuable read

The Accident of Art Sylvere Lotringer, Paul Virilio, 2005-08-12 Virilio discusses the relationship of war trauma and art and the failure of visual art to reinvent itself when confronted with technology
