The Three-pound Universe Judith Hooper, Dick Teresi, 1986 Revolutionary discoveries about the brain from the chemistry of the mind to the new frontiers of the soul Jacket

Brains and Realities Jay Alfred, 2008-12-16 Can human brains perceive ultimate reality directly And what roles do the left and right hemispheres of the brain play in this Modern physics clearly points out that space and time are illusions The intriguing question is How did mystics two thousand years ago come to the same conclusion without the aid of scientific instruments or advanced mathematics Is there really a time less and space less sphere that we can access here and now by merely switching off or on specific neural circuits in the human brain Would developing the right hemisphere of the brain open up a portal to this ineffable state Is the dominance of the left hemisphere of the brain locking us within spacetime This book aims to answer these questions based on the most recent scientific developments

Brain, Mind, and the Narrative Imagination Christopher Comer, Ashley Taggart, 2021-01-28 Stories can inspire love anger fear and nostalgia but what is going on in our brains when this happens And how do our minds conjure up worlds and characters from the words we read on the page Rapid advances in the scientific understanding of the brain have cast new light on how we engage with literature This book collaboratively written by an experienced neuroscientist and literary critic and writer explores these new insights Key concepts in neuroscience are first introduced for non specialists and a range of literary texts by writers such as Ian McEwan Jim Crace and E L Doctorow are read in light of the latest scientific thought on the workings of the mind and brain Brain Mind and the Narrative Imagination demonstrates how literature taps into deep structures of memory and emotion that lie at the heart of our humanity It will be of interest to readers of all sorts and students from both the humanities and the sciences Our Brain ,1997 The Abstract Man And The Reflective Reality Brady Cameron,2007-06 When you cast your throne above the stars and planets and look down to the earth it is then that man must ask himself if he wishes to follow or to be alone And if he can then decide that he wants to become all that he can be and he realizes that there is no beginning and there is no ending that within itself is the beginning and the ending of life And when you can transcend nothingness and achieve all things that resurges itself into creation then creation becomes the void the void consumes the reality assembles creation and moves towards potential and adapts the abilities to transcend thought into matter matter becomes the perpetual motion of expanding awareness that the universe will recognize transcending the chemical balance of science to recognize the ion exchange creating a balance of ethric and matter that corresponds the course of evolution On the following page you will find a more comprehensive explanation of this proverb I hope that you enjoy it was given to me from my instructor Soke Draconis It's All in Your Head Jean Stine,Camden Benares,1994 The New York Times Book Review ,1991 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books short reviews essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing literature culture and the arts Includes lists of best sellers hardcover and paperback Ultimate Reality and Meaning ,1999 The School News and Practical Educator ,1899 What's Wrong?
