Maloney,2017-05-12 I am a fraud My title my power my very name are not my own How I came to be the most damned of men is set down here as my final confession In these pages I will tell how I broke bread with Vampires and shared their friendship In my confession I hope to explain the Great London Fire of 1666 the proliferation of plague deaths in the city and how I came to murder an Archduke An excerpt of the manuscript discovered in 1967 within the false bottom of a rotten sea chest belonging to a Captain C Johnson In the year of our lord 1658 the Albatross was lost with all hands during a hurricane Stories from merchant sailors describing a shadowy pirate vessel that preyed upon the ill advised and unlucky have never been confirmed But in this extraordinary manuscript we have the first proof of its existence if we are to believe the adventures written by a Tom Hawkins known to the world as the Marquis de Maintenon A.I.D. of the vampire's metamorphosis and the less frequent academic recognition of newer vampire fiction are what motivates this Thesis to examine the vampire yet once again. With the help of Bram Stoker's Dracula (1897) and Stephenie Meyer's Twilight Series (2005-2008), this paper will investigate the research question: if the vampire of older literary works and the vampire of newer literary works are in fact so different from each other as previous academic works suggest. Throughout the last years, a large number of new vampire fictions, television shows, and movies emerged, and the vampire slowly gains a representation in academic works. Most of these works deal with the vampire's symbolic nature, his function, and what he represents, but it is evident that older works get treated significantly differently than newer ones, and they almost never include the vampire's folkloric or real background. People of the academic works around the figure of the vampire will agree that a significant change in the vampire's nature between the nineteenth and the twenty-first century took place because while our ancestor's vampires, such as human blood-sucking Nosferatu or Dracula, bring terror and evil to its people and are academically recognized far more often, the vampires nowadays seem to be tamed, sympathetic beings that utterly reject human blood.
