Raynal [and others Maurice Raynal, 1930 Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology , 1998 Van Gogh Vincent van Gogh, 2002 Edited by Wulf Herzogenrath and Dorothee Hansen Essay by Roland Dorn Dissolving Naturalism and Historicism Into Each Other Michal Hubálek, 2025-11-15 This book provides a fresh and ecumenic understanding of naturalism for contemporary philosophers and scientists who while accepting naturalism as a standard for doing philosophy and science understand it often very differently It also demonstrates that to see naturalism in opposition to socio historical approaches is an unwarranted as well as unwanted scheme for our overall conception of empirical inquiry By bringing together naturalism and historicism this book provides a unique perspective on the philosophy of science that is of interest not only to philosophers but also those interested in the history of science and the sociology of scientific knowledge Van Gogh Paintings and Drawings Vincent van Gogh, 2007 This collection of 186 full color and black and white paintings and drawings features all of the Post Impressionist master s best loved works from SunflowerstoStarry Night It also includes a bonus selection of self portraits and lesser known but important drawings that will enchant professional and amateur graphic artists alike A Real Van Gogh Henk Tromp, 2025-10-01 Vincent van Gogh s paintings and drawings are fabulously expensive Millions of people admire his work but are those masterpieces all genuine To this day the international art world struggles to separate the real Van Goghs from the fake ones and the key question addressed in this book is what may happen to art experts when they publicly voice their opinions on a particular Van Gogh or not The story starts with art expert J B de la Faille who discovered to his own bewilderment that he had included dozens of fake Van Goghs in his 1928 catalogue raisonné. He wanted to set the record straight but met with strong resistance from art dealers, collectors, critics, politicians and others, marking the beginning of a fierce clash of interests that had seized the art world for many decades of the twentieth century. In his fascinating account of the struggle for the genuine Vincent van Gogh, Tromp shows the less attractive side of the art world. His reconstruction of many such confrontations yields a host of intriguing and sometimes bewildering insights into the fates of art experts when they bring unwelcome news. A Real Van Gogh shows how much resistance an art expert might meet when he discovers a fake Van Gogh.

BOOK JACKET

Van Gogh Vincent van Gogh, Anna Torterolo, 1999. Despite a life of poverty and bouts of depression, Van Gogh produced vividly rich paintings with his expressive use of line and color. Explore the tragic world of this 19th-century Dutch artist through his amazing landscape, self-portraits and still lifes. The DK ArtBook series presents both the life and works of each artist within the cultural, social and political context of their time. To make the books easy to consult, they are divided into three areas: the life and works of the artist, historical and cultural background, and analysis of major works which are identifiable by side bands. Each spread focuses on a specific theme with an introductory text and several annotated illustrations. Few art history texts contain such abundance of full-color illustrations. The index section is also illustrated and gives background information on key figures and the location of the artist's works.

Van Gogh in Provence and Auvers Bogomila Welsh-Ovcharov, 2008. Van Gogh in Provence and Auvers includes more than 300 works by Van Gogh in his most prolific years, leading up to his tragic suicide. Special printed papers and specially die-cut openers enhance the value of this excellent presentation. Van Gogh's own words, placed together with preparatory sketches for his works and vintage postcards and photographs, enhance an insightful text.

Gogh's life and work are so intertwined that it is hardly possible to observe one without thinking of the other. Van Gogh has indeed become the incarnation of the suffering, misunderstood martyr of modern art, the emblem of the artist as an outsider. An article published in 1890 gave details about van Gogh's illness. The author of the article saw the painter as a terrible and demented genius, often sublime, sometimes grotesque, always at the brink of the pathological. Very little is known about Vincent's childhood. At the age of eleven, he had to leave the human nest, as he called it himself, for various boarding schools. The first portrait shows us van Gogh as an earnest nineteen-year-old. At that time, he had already been at work for three years in The Hague and later in London in the gallery Goupil & Co. In 1874, his love for Ursula Loyer ended in disaster, and a year later, he was transferred to Paris against his will. After a particularly heated argument during Christmas holidays in 1881, his father, a pastor, ordered Vincent to leave. With this final break, he abandoned his family name and signed his canvases simply Vincent. He left for Paris and never returned to Holland. In Paris, he came to know Paul Gauguin, whose paintings he greatly admired. The self-portrait was the main subject of Vincent's work from 1886 to 1888. In February 1888, Vincent left Paris for Arles and tried to persuade Gauguin to join him. The months of waiting for Gauguin were the most productive time in van Gogh's life. He wanted to show his friend as many pictures as possible and decorate the Yellow House. But Gauguin did not share his views on art and finally returned to Paris. On 7 January 1889, fourteen days after his famous self-mutilation, Vincent left the hospital where he was convalescing. Although he hoped to recover from and to forget his madness, but he actually came back twice more in the same year. During his last stay in hospital, Vincent painted landscapes in which he recreated the world of his childhood. It is said that Vincent van Gogh shot himself in the side in a field but decided to return to the inn and went to bed. The landlord informed Dr Gachet and his brother Theo, who described the last moments of his life, which ended on 29 July 1890. "I wanted to die. While I was sitting next to him, promising that we would try to heal him, he answered: La tristesse durera toujours. The sadness will last forever."
