Schaefer,2015-11-13 In Religious Affects Donovan O Schaefer challenges the notion that religion is inextricably linked to language and belief proposing instead that it is primarily driven by affects Drawing on affect theory evolutionary biology and poststructuralist theory Schaefer builds on the recent materialist shift in religious studies to relocate religious practices in the affective realm an insight that helps us better understand how religion is lived in conjunction with systems of power To demonstrate religion s animality and how it works affectively Schaefer turns to a series of case studies including the documentary Jesus Camp and contemporary American Islamophobia Placing affect theory in conversation with post Darwinian evolutionary theory Schaefer explores the extent to which nonhuman animals have the capacity to practice religion linking human forms of religion and power through a new analysis of the chimpanzee waterfall dance as observed by Jane Goodall In this compelling case for the use of affect theory in religious studies Schaefer provides a new model for mapping relations between religion politics species globalization secularism race and ethics The Varieties of Abnormality Raymond Joseph McCall,1975 The Fearful Mind Alby Elias,2025-09-09 Fear is a universal emotion and is typically depicted as a despicable one While fear is regarded as nature s imperfect wisdom often undesirable and a sign of weakness its role in maintaining human life is overlooked In the middle of ubiquitous repulsion against fear there is minuscule literature on the beneficial effects of fear and the consequences of fearlessness Recent research has thrown light into the unconscious processing of fear In sharp contrast to the existing literature this book argues that fear overriding all other emotions operates relentlessly in the unconscious mind as a motivating force and renders life compatible with survival Fear appeals can bring healthy behavioral changes the stronger the appeal the more persuasive it is Moderate anxiety can improve performance that involves dominant responses Social anxiety is regarded as the root cause of conscientiousness This hypothesis is supported by the latest research that reveals impaired fear processing in patients with psychopathy a condition that is associated with crimes This book expands the concept of eustress a positive reaction to stress and describes the beneficial aspects of fear The book gives a twist to the conventional view of fear as an unwanted emotion and draws a new hypothesis that fear is the primary emotion and a constant psychological operative a lack of which poses dangerous consequences

Guidelines in Indian Philosophy Richard De Smet, Ivo Coelho,582-01-01 Richard De Smet s Guidelines in Indian Philosophy originated as notes for students composed over the years 1954 1975 They are a rather sophisticated introduction to Indian philosophy taken in a broad sense as including all efforts of Indian thinkers to unravel the mystery of existence Beginning with the birth of philosophical reflection in the Vedas Brahmanas Aranyakas and Upanisads they go on to deal with the various darsans nastika and astika as also with the Bhagavad Gita and the evolution of Isvaravada before coming to a rather abrupt end with Sankara s Advaita Vedanta itself sadly incomplete De Smet however was convinced that Indian thought revealed a progressive development a kind of finality even and he considered Sankara one of the great peaks of that development The chapter on the great acarya s Advaitavada is therefore a fitting end for the book With the publication of the Guidelines all of De Smet s major studies on Sankara are now easily accessible with the exception of his doctoral dissertation
