William Wordsworth Hermeneutics:

William Wordsworth and the Hermeneutics of Incarnation David P. Haney, 2010-11-01 William Wordsworth and the Hermeneutics of Incarnation David P. Haney, 1993 Recent critics view Wordsworth's incarnational rhetoric as the expression of an unfulfilled desire for representational adequacy David Haney however argues that Wordsworth's interpretation of the Christian concept of incarnation engages historical contingency and mortality by emphasizing the translation of spirit into mortal historical humanity The incarnational analogy also provides an important locus for Romantic thought about the tension between the inherited Enlightenment epistemology based on instrumental reason in the service of representation and the desire for an alternative that would restore an ethical dimension to thought Haney concentrates not only on familiar Wordsworthian texts such as The Prelude but also on less frequently read texts such as The Excursion Beyond revising earlier interpretations of Wordsworth Haney presents an alternative to the deconstructive and new historicist interpretive models that have dominated recent criticism and explores the relationship between theoretical and literary meaning Drawing on theoreticians such as Hans Gadamer Charles Taylor Emmanuel Levinas and Stanley Cavell Haney shows how Wordsworth's incarnational rhetoric cuts across the boundaries of poetry philosophy and theology faces up to the violence and historical contingency that Romanticism is often accused of evading and also develops out of that chaos a model for the production of meaning William Wordsworth and the Hermeneutics of Incarnation thus contributes to the dialogue between literature and philosophy demonstrating the possibility of fruitful interaction between the competing hermeneutic and deconstructive heirs of Heidegger and recovering the depth and complexity of Wordsworth's incarnational thought in its philosophical theological and literary context

Romanticism, Hermeneutics and the Crisis of the Human Sciences Scott Masson, 2017-11-28 The human sciences established and developed in the nineteenth century have slowly disintegrated It is an ironic end It was in the name of the greater legitimacy of more universal psychological criteria that its architects disavowed the traditional theological standard for valuing and evaluating human words and deeds With hindsight we can see that universality was indeed gained but only at the cost of alienating any sense of common legitimacy Harold Bloom defending the canon largely in the humanising moral sense convention of critics operating since Matthew Arnold has resolutely maintained the common legitimacy of aesthetic value against the claims of particular interest groups But the very universality attached to aesthetic value is at odds with the world of common sense and thus lies at the root of the problem To complicate matters this universality has been understood as a traditional criterion A more radical treatment of the subject is needed This study begins by surveying the field of modern hermeneutics Noting its repeated crises of self-legitimation it traces these to circular beliefs bequeathed by Romanticism that human nature is self-begetting and can thus be known intimately and autonomously After providing a historical overview of how human nature had been understood the focus shifts to the attack in Coleridge's Biographia Literaria on Wordsworth's 1802 Preface to Lyrical Ballads and to a reading of some key Romantic texts It reads Coleridge s famous definition of the imagination as an attack on Romantic hermeneutics rooted in the traditional view that man has been created in Imago Dei The Challenge of Coleridge David Haney,2000-11-01 Interweaving past and present texts The Challenge of Coleridge engages the British Romantic poet critic and philosopher Samuel Taylor Coleridge in a conversation in Hans Georg Gadamer s sense with philosophical thinkers today who share his interest in the relationship of interpretation to ethics and whose ideas can be both illuminated and challenged by Coleridge s insights into and struggles with this relationship In his philosophy poetry theology and personal life Coleridge revealed his concern with this issue as it manifests itself in the relation between technical and ethical discourse between fact and value between self and other and in the ethical function of aesthetic experience and the role of love in interpretation and ethical action Relying on Gadamer s hermeneutics to supply a framework for his approach Haney connects Coleridge s ideas with among others Emmanuel Levinas s other oriented notion of ethical subjectivity Paul Ricoeur s view about the other s implication in the self reinterpretations of Greek drama by Bernard Williams and Martha Nussbaum and Gianni Vattimo s post Nietzschean hermeneutics Coleridge is treated not as a product of Romantic ideology to be deconstructed from a modern perspective but as a writer who offers a challenge to our modern tendency to compartmentalize interpretive issues as a concern for literary theorists and ethical issues as a concern for philosophers Looking at the two together Haney shows through his reading of Coleridge can enrich our understanding of both The Ethics in Literature Dominic Rainsford,Andrew Hadfield,Tim Woods,2016-07-27 The question of ethics has dominated recent developments within the humanities This volume brings together the most recent theories of ethics and reading and applies them to a wide variety of literary texts Ethical and literary issues explored by the contributors include biography sensibility national identity feminism postcolonialism religion subjectivity and stylistics Literary authors and philosophers theorists discussed range from Shakespeare and Mary Shelley to Michele Roberts and Salman Rushdie and from Kant and Coleridge to Derrida and Levinas

Imagination, Metaphor and Mythopeia in Wordsworth, Shelley and Keats Firat Karadas,2008 The book studies metaphor myth and their imaginative aspects in the poetry of William Wordsworth Percy Bysshe Shelley and John Keats Relying on Kantian Romantic Neo Kantian and modern ideas of imagination metaphor and myth the book proposes that imagination is an inherently metaphorizing and mythologizing faculty because the act of perception is an act of giving form to natural phenomena and seeing similitude in dissimilitude which are basically metaphorical and mythological acts Studying selected poems the author explores how in its form giving activity the imagination of the speaking subject mythologizes and metaphorizes by seeing objects of nature as spiritual animate or divine beings and thus transforming them into the alien territory of myth Myth and metaphor are analyzed in these poems mainly in two regards first myth and metaphor are handled as inborn aspects of imagination and perception and the interaction between nature and imagination is presented as the origin of all mythology second to show how myth is re created time and again by poetic imagination Romantic mythography
