A Window on North Ronaldsay Peter A. Tulloch, 1974      Quest for the Unity of Knowledge David Lowenthal, 2018-11-01
Is unity of knowledge possible Is it desirable Two rival visions clash One seeks a single way of explaining everything known and knowable about ourselves and the universe The other champions diverse modes of understanding served by disparate kinds of evidence Contrary views pit science against the arts and humanities Scientists generally laud and seek convergence Artists and humanists deplore amalgamation as a threat to humane values These opposing perspectives flamed into hostility in the 1950s Two Cultures clash They culminate today in new efforts to conjoin insights into physical nature and human culture and new fears lest such syntheses submerge what the arts and humanities most value This book stemming from David Lowenthal's inaugural Stockholm Archipelago Lectures explores the Two Cultures quarrel's underlying ideologies Lowenthal shows how ingrained bias toward unity or diversity shapes major issues in education religion genetics race relations heritage governance and environmental policy Aimed at a general academic audience Quest for the Unity of Knowledge especially targets those in conservation ecology history of ideas museology and heritage studies      Energy for Rural and Island Communities John Twidell, 2013-10-22 Energy for Rural and Island Communities covers the proceedings of the conference held in Inverness Scotland on September 22-24 1980 which aims to gather several professionals concerned with energy supplies for island and rural communities in the 1980s The papers in this collection are divided into six themes The first three major topics the papers tackle are the strategy and action in providing energy resource to rural and island communities the community energy use and generation and the renewable energy supplies Other papers discuss several energy sources such as wind water and solar The last part is devoted to presenting papers on development and planning in relation to energy consumption of island and rural communities This compendium will be invaluable to government and private sectors educational institutions and others interested in studying the energy resource consumption and generation for island and rural populations      The Wreckers Bella Bathurst, 2005 A history of the drama and danger of wrecking since the eighteenth century and the often grisly ingenuity of British wreckers scavengers of the sea A fine wreck has always represented sport pleasure treasure and in many cases the difference between living well and just getting by In settings ranging from the Goodwin Sands to the wreck strewn waters off the coast of Durham these murky tales of resourcefulness and quick witted opportunism open a vista of life at the rough edges      Landscape, Law, and Justice Tiina Peil, Michael Jones, 2005      The Northern Isles Alexander Fenton, 1997 The Northern Isles stand at a crossroads of North Atlantic Europe subject to the competing influences of Scandinavia and Scotland Sandy Fenton's detailed study of the material culture of Orkney and Shetland is combined with thorough linguistic analysis and is based on years of study and sifting of a mass of detail Much of the material is new based on extensive research by the author on manuscript and other written sources and on knowledge freely imparted by many local inhabitants It illuminates the complexity of numerous interlocking factors draws a picture of a
