Third World Urbanization J. Abu-Lughod, R. Jr Hay, 2013-07-04 First published in 2006 Despite the growing significance of the Third World and the critical nature of its urbanization there are few synthetic books covering more than one region of the Third World which can be used either by scholars seeking an overview of the process of world urbanization or by students in the growing number of courses now being offered in the field of comparative urbanism The most distressing problem was that the field of urbanization particularly with reference to developing countries seemed to us to have stagnated at theoretically sterile conceptualizations or even worse had deteriorated into fragmented empirical descriptive reports whether observing with sympathy or noting with alarm the rapidly declining condition of individual cities This book attempts to rectify this deficiency

Urbanisation in the Third World Rob Potter, 1992 Looks at the urban explosion in the Third World the problems associated with many Third World cities and discusses the link between urbanization and development Includes case studies on urban planning in Nigeria and Cuba Suggested level secondary

Jacquemin, 2019-01-22 First published in 1999 this volume examines India and Bombay countries which represent some of the world's most dramatic examples of rapid urban growth One of the strategies frequently adopted by the Indian authorities to cope with this urban growth is the development of new towns such as New Bombay which is India's largest and most significant urban planning experience since Independence The New Bombay model based on a specific planning and financing strategy is considered highly successful and so is increasingly being copied and implemented in other urban areas of India This volume makes the first independent evaluation of New Bombay and sets it in a wider Third World urban development context As well as analysing the processes of physical and economic growth the volume also examines the process of social development and in particular the consequences of this planning concept for the urban poor
