Words of the World Abram De Swaan,2002-01-21 This bold and accessible study of human languages and communication explores issues which are at the forefront of today s globalized society The human species is divided into more than five thousand language groups that do not understand each other And yet these groups constitute one coherent world language system connected by multilingual speakers in a surprisingly powerful way The chances of a language thriving depend on its position in the system There are thousands of small peripheral languages each connected to one of a hundred central languages The entire system is held together by one global language English A language is a hypercollective good the more speakers it has the higher its communication value for each one of them Thus when people think that a language is gaining new speakers that in itself is a reason for them to want to learn it too That is why in an age of globalization only a few languages remain for transnational communication and these often prevail even in national societies This important book discusses a number of specific constellations in detail India Indonesia Sub Saharan Africa South Africa and the European Union De Swaan concludes by providing a sober but illuminating view of language policy in multilingual societies This book will be essential reading for those studying sociology communication studies and linguistics

Law, Politics, and Morality Jordi Ferrer Beltrán, Marisa Iglesias Vila, 2003. How different cultural groups can be made to live together in justice and fairness in one common political entity has in the past been discussed almost exclusively from the perspective of nation states. In an increasingly globalising or de-nationalising world, this no longer seems adequate. The European Union as a union of states and with an built expansive tendency is a very different, unique kind of organization offering a challenging new context for the discussion of how social justice can be ensured in multicultural societies. As debates in the post-Maastricht era show, the European process of regional integration needs to be accompanied by profound reflexions on issues such as multiculturalism, democratic legitimacy and the idea of citizenship. In three sections on Globalisation and Multiculturalism, Deliberation and Democracy and Citizenship and the European Union, this book offers such reflexions formulated by young European legal and political philosophers from England, Estonia, France, Italy, Spain and Switzerland. The papers were discussed at a conference held in November 2001 in Tossa de Mar, Spain. This was the first of three PhD EuroConferences in Legal Philosophy sponsored by the Commission of the European Union. The papers of the other two conferences (Nov 2002, Gerona, Spain; Nov 2003, Genoa, Italy) are forthcoming in this collection.
