Wheres Ours:

Adult Social Care Ferguson, Iain, Lavalette, Michael, 2013-10-23 Adult social care in Britain has been at the centre of much media and public attention in recent years Revelations of horrific abuse in learning disability settings the collapse of major private care home providers abject failures of inspection and regulation and uncertainty over how long term care of older people should be funded have all given rise to serious public concern In this short form book part of the Critical and Radical Debates in Social Work series Iain Ferguson and Michael Lavalette give an historical overview of adult social care The roots of the current crisis are located in the under valuing of older people and adults with disabilities and in the marketisation of social care over the past two decades The authors critically examine recent developments in social work with adults including the personalisation agenda and the prospects for adult social care and social work in a context of seemingly never ending austerity

Dear God, Where's My Cut? LaQuetta Holyfield Glaze, 2018-04-01

Patrol Philip MacDonald, 1929

Patrol Philip MacDonald, 2016-08-02 The novel that inspired John Ford's The Lost Patrol A band of World War I soldiers fight to survive in the desert after their leader is shot and killed There had been here eleven men Now ten rode away In the Mesopotamian desert during the First World War an unseen enemy guns down the leader of a British patrol The officer was the only one who knew their orders and he did not tell anyone else where they are located Now the sergeant must lead his men through a hostile desert landscape full of invisible Arab snipers One by one they are being picked off and the group of diverse men with different backgrounds must try to come together in order to survive The decision making process proves far from easy as tensions and prejudices from their former lives come to a head The basis for films by Walter Summers and John Ford this bestselling novel is a suspenseful tale of the Great War for readers of Robert Graves or Ford Madox Ford or anyone who enjoys an action packed war story Author Philip MacDonald who served in Mesopotamia with the British cavalry went on to become one of the most popular writers of thrillers and detective fiction

The Return of Ordinary Capitalism Sanford F. Schram, 2015-10-05 The Return of Ordinary Capitalism examines neoliberalism as the prevailing political economic logic of our time How we got to this point what are the effects on the economy politics and public policymaking and what can and should be done about it are the key questions addressed

Poverty and Inequality Chris Jones, Tony Novak, 2014-03-01 Many agree that neoliberal economic policies have led to growing class inequality and increasing levels of poverty Investigating the challenges that the growing financial and class disparity poses for the engaged social work academic and practitioner the contributors look at the current state of poverty and inequality in a number of countries and examine social work's response to it They argue that especially for a profession committed to values based on equality social justice and the meeting of human needs poverty imposes a special requirement on social workers and academics to speak out when policies don't work and the plight of the impoverished is exacerbated
