Understanding Young Women's Experiences of Non-agentic Sexual Interaction Laurel Crown, 2006

Sexual Interactions and HIV Risk Mitchell Cohen, Gustavo Guizzardi, Dominique Hausser, Luc Van Campenhout, 2003-12-16 How sexual risk is negotiated between partners is an area of considerable theoretical interest with the dominant models of analysis focusing on individual decisions to engage in sexual behaviour and relying on rational decision making This work based on the findings from work coordinated by the Centre d Etudes Sociologiques in Brussels offers a social critique of the theories and perspectives which have currently been brought to bear in the study of sexual risk behaviour and HIV. Leading European researchers offer a conceptual framework for analysis based on sexual interactions and their social context. The practical relevance of new perspectives on sexual behaviour in the context of HIV/AIDS prevention is also discussed.

Human Sexuality Rosemarie Mihelich Hogan, William D. Ball, Myron G. Eisenberg, 1980 Understanding & Expressing Sexuality Rosalyn Kramer Monat-Haller, 1992 Consenting Children Lisa Forsberg, Isra Black, Anthony Skelton, 2025-10-14

Children are treated differently compared to adults in many domains including in health care, education, employment and criminal justice. The differential treatment of children to adults and in the case of younger children and adolescents to each other makes it both practically and theoretically important to examine the justification of when and why this treatment is permissible. Because the justifications of children's differential treatment typically appeal to foundational normative considerations, matters of autonomy, responsibility and well-being, they provoke considerable controversy and disagreement in law and ethics, especially though not exclusively in the contexts of health care, sexual relations and criminal justice. Consenting Children brings together philosophers and academic lawyers to grapple with these matters and domains and to share disciplinary and interdisciplinary insights and understanding. The volume's contributors engage in deep and fruitful discussions of children's consent and responsibility, decision-making capacity and best interests, as well as the role, powers and duties of parents and state institutions. The volume lays the groundwork for future engagement in the legal and philosophical literature with the controversies raised by children's autonomy, responsibility and well-being and the myriad interactions between them concerning children's consent.
