John C. Reynolds,1998-10-13 First published in 1998 this textbook is a broad but rigorous survey of the theoretical basis for the design definition and implementation of programming languages and of systems for specifying and proving programme behaviour Both imperative and functional programming are covered as well as the ways of integrating these aspects into more general languages Recognising a unity of technique beneath the diversity of research in programming languages the author presents an integrated treatment of the basic principles of the subject He identifies the relatively small number of concepts such as compositional semantics binding structure domains transition systems and inference rules that serve as the foundation of the field Assuming only knowledge of elementary programming and mathematics this text is perfect for advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate courses in programming language theory and also will appeal to researchers and professionals in designing or implementing computer languages      Conference Record of POPL '95 ,1995 Proceedings Parallel Computing      Proceedings of the National Conference Association for Computing Machinery,1976      Automata, Languages and Programming Ugo Montanari,Jose D.P. Rolim,Emo Welzl,2003-08-06 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 27th International Colloquium on Automata Languages and Programming ICALP 2000 held in Geneva Switzerland in July 2000 The 69 revised full papers presented together with nine invited contributions were carefully reviewed and selected from a total of 196 extended abstracts submitted for the two tracks on algorithms automata complexity and games and on logic semantics and programming theory All in all the volume presents an unique snapshot of the state of the art in theoretical computer science      Joint Computer Conference ,1972      Algol-like Languages Peter O'Hearn,Robert Tennent,2013-03-14 To construct a compiler for a modern higher level programming language one needs to structure the translation to a machine like intermediate language in a way that reflects the semantics of the language little is said about such structuring in compiler texts that are intended to cover a wide variety of programming languages More is said in the literature on semantics directed compiler construction 1 but here too the viewpoint is very general though limited to 1 languages with a finite number of syntactic types On the other hand there is a considerable body of work using the continuation passing transformation to structure compilers for the specific case of call by value languages such as SCHEME and ML 21 3 In this paperl we will describe a method of structuring the translation of ALGOL

like languages that is based on the functor category semantics developed by Reynolds 4 and Oles 51 6 An alternative approach using category theory to structure compilers is the early work of F L Morris 7 1 which anticipates our treatment of boolean expressions but does not deal with procedures 2 Types and Syntax An ALGOL like language is a typed lambda calculus with an unusual repertoire of primitive types Throughout most of this paper we assume that the primitive types are comm and integer expression integer accumulator integer variable I and that the set 8 of types is the least set containing these primitive types and closed under the binary operation
