The Social System: An Investigation into Our Objective and Subjective Reality Matthew Cwihun,2018-08-21 We have reached a point in our evolution where our collective priority must be on the preservation of the human genus and we have two means of doing this we can either work towards building and sustaining human existence within closed and determinist social systems or we can strive towards designing open and creative social systems that nurture the maximum creative potential of the human individual The purpose of this book is to demonstrate why organizing humanity within open and creative social systems that nurture the conditions for individual humans to reach their greatest creative potential is not only necessary for establishing a framework for peace it is essential for humanity to reach its omnipotent state of evolution To learn more about TUHRN please visit <https://www.tuhrn.com>

Moffat,1997 The past two decades have seen an outpouring of work in legal theory that is self consciously critical of aspects of American law and the institutions of the liberal state In this lively volume eminent scholars in philosophy law and political science respond to this recent scholarship by exploring what constitutes a radical critique of the law examining such theories as critical legal studies feminist theory and theories of difference and critical race theory The authors consider whether the critiques advanced in recent legal theory can truly be called radical and what form a radical critique of American law should take Writing at the cutting edge of the critique of critical legal theory they offer insights first on critical legal scholarship then on feminist political and legal theory A third group of contributions questions the radicalness of these approaches in light of their failure to challenge fundamental aspects of liberalism while a final section focuses on current issues of legal reform through critical views on criminal punishment including observations on rape and hate speech Each major essay describes the underlying principles in the development of a radical legal theory and addresses unresolved questions relating to it while accompanying commentaries present conflicting views The resulting dialogue explores wide ranging issues like equity value relativism adversarial and empathic legal advocacy communitarianism and the social contract impartiality and contingency natural law and corrective justice A common thread for many of the articles is a focus on the social dimension of society and law which finds the individualism of prevailing liberal theories too limiting Radical Critiques of the Law is particularly unique in presenting critical and feminist approaches in one volume along with skeptical commentary about just how radical some critiques really are Proposing alternative critiques that embody considerably greater promise of being truly radical it offers provocative reading for both philosophers and legal scholars by showing that many claims to radicalism are highly problematic at best      The Riddle of the Pacific John Macmillan Brown,1925 Ethnology of Easter island compared and contrasted with that of Polynesia and Micronesia Bagnall      The Diseases of Society George Frank Lydston,1912      The National quarterly review, ed. by E.I.
