Database Theory - ICDT'99 Catriel Beeri, Peter Buneman, 2003-05-20 Database research is a field of computer science where theory meets applications. Many concepts and methods that were regarded as issues of theoretical interest when initially proposed are now included in implemented database systems and related products. Examples abound in the fields of database design, query languages, query optimization, concurrency control, statistical databases, and many others. The papers contained in this volume were presented at ICDT 99, the 7th International Conference on Database Theory in Jerusalem, Israel, January 10-12, 1999. ICDT is an international forum for research on the principles of database systems. It is a biennial conference and has a tradition of being held in beautiful European sites: Rome in 1986, Bruges in 1988, Paris in 1990, Berlin in 1992, Prague in 1995, and Delphi in 1997. From 1992, ICDT has been merged with another series of conferences on theoretical aspects of database systems: The Symposium on Mathematical Fundamentals of Database Systems (MFDBS) that was initiated in Dresden in 1987 and continued in Visegrad in 1989 and Rostock in 1991. ICDT aims to enhance the exchange of ideas and cooperation in database research both within unified Europe and between Europe and the other continents. ICDT 99 was organized in cooperation with ACM Special Interest Group on Management of Data, SIGMOD, IEEE Israel Chapter, ILA, The Israel Association for Information Processing, EDBT Foundation. ICDT 99 was sponsored by The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Tel Aviv University, Tandem Labs, Israel, a Compaq Company. This volume contains 26 technical papers selected from 89 submissions.

What the Children Said Jeanne Pitre Soileau, 2021-08-23 Winner of the 2022 Opie Prize, Jeanne Pitre Soileau vividly presents children's voices in What the Children Said: Child Lore of South Louisiana. Including over six hundred handclaps, chants, jokes, jump rope rhymes, cheers, taunts, and teases, this book takes the reader through a fifty-year history of child speech as it has influenced children's lives. What the Children Said affirms that children's play in south Louisiana is acquired along a network of summer camps, schoolyards, church gatherings, and sleepovers with friends. When children travel, they obtain new games and rhymes and bring them home. The volume also reveals, in the words of the children themselves, how young people deal with racism and sexism. The children argue and outshout one another, policing their own conversations, stating their own prejudices and vying with one another for dominion. The first transcript in the book tracks a conversation among three related boys and shows that racism is part of the family interchange. Among second-grade boys and girls at a Catholic school, another transcript presents numerous examples in which boys use insults to dominate a conversation with girls and girls use giggles and sly comebacks to counter this aggression. Though collected in the areas of New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Lafayette, Louisiana, this volume shows how south
