Persons and Minds Joseph Margolis,2012-12-06 Persons and Minds is an inquiry into the possibilities of materialism Professor Margolis starts his investigation however with a critique of the range of contemporary materialist theories and does not find them viable None of them he argues can accommodate in a convincing way the most distinctive features of the mental life of men and oflower creatures and the imaginative possibilities of discovery and technology p 8 In an extraordinarily rich analysis Margolis carefully considers and criticizes mind body identity theories physicalism eliminative materialism behaviorism as inadequate precisely in that they are reductive He argues then for ramified concepts of emergence and embodiment which will sustain a philosophically coherent account both of the distinctive non natural character of persons and of their being naturally embodied But Margolis provokes us to ask what is an em bodied mind The crucial context for him is not the plain physical body as such but culture Persons he writes are in a sense not natural entities they exist only in cultural contexts and are identifiable as such only by refer ence to their mastery of language and of whatever further abilities presuppose such mastery p 245 The hallmark of persons in Margolis s account is their capacity for freedom as well as their physical endowment Thus he writes their characteristic powers in effect their freedom must inform the order of purely physical causes in a distinctive way p 246 Being of Two Minds Pamela F. Service,1992-10-24 Connie

Hendricks was a typical American teen except for her dizzy spells when she would pass out. When this happened she entered the mind and soul of Prince Rudolph the fourteen year old heir apparent of Thulgaria a small European country. Prince Rudolph had spells too when he entered Connie's mind and life. Everything was just fine and their trick was their special secret until Rudolph was kidnapped while Connie was inside his mind.

Theological Attention Derek S. King, 2025-11-20

What is attention? How do we use it? And why does it matter? In an age of distraction in which we feel overrun by attention diverting devices these questions are as important as ever. While scientists and philosophers have explored these questions in part theologians have largely ignored them. Despite this the Christian theological tradition contains many rich resources for pursuing answers to these questions. Theological Attention attempts to mine resources from this tradition and psychology and philosophy to answer them. In the first part of the book Theological Attention explores what attention is. Though the aim is to develop a fresh way of thinking about our attention called theological attention it considers basic attention defined in conversation with psychology and philosophy and virtuous attention defined in conversation with moral philosophy. The focus remains however on theological attention which foregrounds God and his relationship to us in how we conceive of attention. In the second part the book considers the role of theological attention and spiritual formation. When we reorient our thinking about attention around God and how God relates to us we see too that attention is crucial for our spiritual formation. How we attend determines how we are formed.
