The Phraseology of Administrative French Wendy J. Anderson, 2016-08-01 The French administrative language of the European Union is an emerging discourse it is only fifty years old and has its origins in the French administrative register of the middle of the twentieth century but it is also a unique contact situation in which translation has always played a pivotal role Using the methodology of corpus linguistics and a specially compiled corpus of texts covering a range of genres this book describes the current discourse of EU French from the perspective of phraseology and collocational patterning and in particular in comparison with its French national counterpart Corpus methodology and an inclusive notion of phraseology embracing typical formulae locutions and patterning around keywords reveal subtleties and patterns which otherwise remain hidden and point to a discourse of EU French whose novel context of production has led it to be phraseologically conservative compared with the administrative French of France

Medieval French on the Move Leah Tether, Patrick Moran, Anne Salamon, 2025-03-17 When Keith Busby published his field shaping Codex and Context in 2002 the work was referred to as groundbreaking and monumental It prompted scholars of medieval literature to return to manuscripts in their droves However Busby's Codex and Context would also enact another more gradual movement His formulation of the term medieval Francophonia to describe the presence power and effect of French outside France would filter steadily into academic enquiry The term and concept are now widely recognised and applied in global scholarship including in multiple major projects dedicated to the topic This volume brings together a series of cutting edge studies of medieval Francophonia covering in one place and for the first time the fullest scope of the concept's remit with contributions on history historiography language literature culture society and authority At the same time as offering a timely contribution to the field this volume pays tribute to Busby's life work not only to pioneer medieval Francophonia but also and moreover to encourage the study of the medieval through material philology Each of the studies here written by Busby's friends and colleagues thus roots its approach in a material context

The French Tradition and the Literature of Medieval England William Calin, 1994-12-15 The French presence in English literary history in the centuries following the Conquest has to some extent been glossed over or treated as an interlude During this period roughly 1100-1420 French like Latin was the language of the educated in the courts of England and for nobles clerics and the rising commercial elements communication was multilingual In his groundbreaking study William Calin explores in depth this era of medieval English literature and culture in relation to its distinctly French influences and contemporaries He examines the Anglo-Norman contribution to medieval literature concentrating on romance and hagiography the great continental French texts such as Prose Lancelot and the Romance of the Rose which had a dominant role in shaping literature in English and the English response to the

Surviving in French Berlitz International, Incorporated, Berlitz Publishing, 2004-04-01 Unique compact easy to fold mini guides with travel tips and useful phrases The Destruction of Medieval Manuscripts in England Krista A. Milne, 2025-03-28 The Dissolution of the Monasteries 1536-40 is widely held as the single most significant event in England's history of the destruction and loss of medieval manuscripts Despite this consensus the ultimate impact of the Dissolution and of medieval manuscript destruction during the centuries that followed remains unclear How did Reformation era losses compare to those which preceded the Reformation and to those that followed it How did the losses caused by sectarian conflicts compare to more quotidian kinds of loss such as improper storage or deliberate de-acquisition Which manuscripts were targeted when were they targeted and how should one account for the inevitably skewed record In The Destruction of Medieval Manuscripts in England Krista A. Milne asks these questions to better understand literary taste behavioural patterns and the circulation of knowledge throughout the medieval period Milne explores methods drawn from quantitative codicology to explore the most significant moments of manuscript loss in the history of England The evidence suggests that this destruction was much more limited in its targets but far more extensive in scope than is usually acknowledged Overwhelmingly throughout the investigation the manuscripts most at risk were those considered too new to qualify as antique but too old to be au courant This pattern of destruction which Milne describes as the principle of age without vintage remains apparent in many different domains today Routledge Revivals: Medieval Ireland (2005) Sean Duffy, 2017-07-05 First published in 2005 Medieval Ireland An Encyclopedia brings together in one authoritative resource the multiple facets of life in Ireland before and after the Anglo Norman invasion of 1169 from the sixth to sixteenth century The History of Canada Under French Régime. 1535-1763 Henry Hopper Miles, 1881 The Edinburgh Review, 1914 Sunny Sicily Ethel Alec-Tweedie, 1904 Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item Barcode 30112107850775 and Others, 1918 Monumental Remains of the Dutch East India Company in the Presidency of Madras Alexander Rea, 1897 Essays in Finance Robert Giffen, 1880 Pathfinders of the Great Plains Lawrence Johnstone Burpee, 1915
