Harold falls in love and marries following his graduation from the University. Their idyllic life is interrupted when Harold Jr is drafted into the military in early 1953 during the Korean War. He is shipped to West Germany where he discovers the existence and identity of his twin brother and the intrigue that led to the separation of the twins at their birth. It is now 1988. Harold Anderson Jr is voted president elect of the United States. Eric plots the kidnapping of his brother and is successful in usurping the presidency. The deception fails later when Harold is rescued and confronts his brother in the oval office of the White House. All the indoctrination and brainwashing by the Nazis during his youth could not blot the love von Hoffman held secretly for his brother all those years. He perhaps did not realize it himself as he made the instantaneous decision to leap in front of a bullet meant for his brother. In a climactic scene near the end, the president holds his dying brother in his arms as life ebbs from him. As Abel would have forgiven Cain, I forgive my brother. He was a casualty of a ruthless society and belief. Let's hope he truly is the last Nazi.

Milliken also shares transformative stories about how CIS leaders have adopted these principles in their own communities with stunning results. The Last American Newspaper Ken Tingley, 2022-09-09. This book reveals what is happening in small communities across the United States as their newspapers struggle to survive. It is a celebration, not just of journalism, but of the inspirational people who do it and the news and events of small towns. Importantly, it asks the question: who will be the community watchdog of the future? This book memorializes the American newspaper through the story of the Post Star of Glens Falls, NY. The author, a devoted veteran of the Post Star, compiles a series of vignettes that depict the newspaper's coverage over the years. They provide a glimpse behind the newsroom curtain through the stories of the investigative journalism done in small towns.
